Newton Loses Heartbreaker To Somerville 39-37; Game Decided in Last Second

Orange and Black Play Greatest Game in Years

Capt. Al Perry's long shot with six seconds remaining in the game gave the favorite Somerville High basketball team a thrilling breath-taking 39-37 win over a Newton High aggregation, which in its loss, proved to a capacity Tech Tournery crowd Thursday night that you can't stop a fighting never-say-die Newton team.

At least that's the way it was until—
Trailing by 12 points 24-12 at half time and hearing the majority whisper "doom" for the Huston five, the Orange and Black battled the long and hard way to tie its opponent 36 all with one minute left to play and take the lead on a foul toss with thirty seconds remaining—but only to lose out in the heart-breaking fashion on Perry's dream, Frank Merriwell basket.

Never has this writer seen a hoop club fight back and win the admiration from Tournery fans who expected Somerville to run away with the contest when half-time ended. Newton didn't have a chance to get started, for Somerville was hot at the out-

Advocates Development of Playgrounds And Parks

Herbert J. Kellaway, chairman of the Newton Planning Board advocates the developing of parks and playgrounds in Newton, for which he says land should be purchased immediately even if the work can not be started at the present time.

He also states that traffic problems will increase if recommendations of the Planning Board are not followed and the widening of streets and creating of parking lots should also be undertaken.

The recommendation of the Planning Board are:
Elimination of the dangerous curve on Commonwealth avenue at Prince street, where four fatal accidents and seven injuries have occurred in recent years.

Widening of Washington street and of Centre street from Cypress street to the railroad.

Rerouting of Route 128.

March 1 heralded the opening of the first postwar fund campaign of Newton Red Cross. Upwards of 1500 volunteer solicitors began their canvass of every home and office in the community to raise $90,000, the largest peacetime fund ever raised by the organization.

"Chestnut Hill, conducting a one day whirlwind drive went over the top on Sunday, March 3d, with over $8200 collected," announces Mr. John S. Whittemore, chairman, 1946 Fund drive. "This splendid response is typical of the people of Newton and makes us hopeful of completing our campaign before March 26th."

Mr. Whittemore continues: "The men in active service, the hospitalized, and the veterans form three major Red Cross battle fronts which victory in the field merely served to intensify. Since V-E and V-J Days Red Cross services to these men and their dependents have increased materially. Added to this are rapidly growing responsibilities to civilians. Every American must support his Red Cross to the utmost so that it may continue to serve our men in uniform, whether able-bodied or hospitalized, our veterans, and people, adequately."

Under its congressional charter and under Army and Navy regulations the American Red Cross acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between people of the United States and their Army and Navy. Since the beginning of the war Newton Chapter Home Service has accepted this commitment and has given and will continue to give service on a 24-hour emergency basis to servicemen and their families. Here is a typical Home Service case:

A Newton mother of three children, whose husband was overseas, assumed the responsibility of her family until her health failed and she was threatened with a long hospital-

Outrageous Proposal

Tuesday the legal affairs committee of the Legislature held a hearing on House Bill 215 which would repeal the laws against fictitious lotteries. These laws were passed in 1833 to protect the people against the sale of fake lottery tickets. They were enacted at a time when legalized lotteries existed and when phony or fictitious lotteries sprang up in such numbers that they proved to be a nuisance and a menace.

Later the General Court voted to abolish all lotteries. From time to time, the Legislature has been petitioned to authorize a state lottery under the guise of raising money to be applied to the costs of welfare and old age assistance. Each time the Legislature, backed by strong pressure from clergy and laymen alike turned down the proposal.

Just why House Bill 215 has been filed is difficult to understand. What can it be but an open invitation to racketeers to cheat the public? The General Court should reject this outrageous proposal.

A Forward Pledge

"Democracy is inseparable from private enterprise. If private enterprise is lost, democracy dies and statism rules us. . . . All of us know that the greatest security workmen can have is a steady job. And steady jobs result only from a profit to those who supply the tools with which workmen work."

"The standard of living rises only with production that comes from the use of tools. Except a profit be supplied, the tools are idle and so are workers."

With these words, a man born in biting poverty, who was a grocer's boy, a janitor, a dock-hand, to help support his family—a man who knows labor from having labored all his life—has taken office as head of the 14,300 employers forming the National Association of Manufacturers. He is Robert R. Wason, native of Ohio.

The NAM's new president pledges himself to work with his membership in 1946 "to restore balance to the economy," asserting:

"This balance will give lower prices to the consumer, higher wages to the worker, a fair return to the investor, and expanded markets that will raise the living standards of all our people."

It is a forward-looking and encouraging pledge, for this critical year.

HOW Veteran "X" saves— $2,000 in Mortgage Interests

The other day, a young veteran came in to ask us about arranging a loan to buy a $10,000 house. "Under the G. I. Bill," he said, "that means no money down, twenty years to pay, doesn't it?"

"That's right!" we said. "You can buy it that way, thanks to the government. But—let's talk things over a bit! Maybe you can make even better terms!"

He'd never thought of that! Imagine his delight when he found he could save $2,000 in interest, five and a half years in time, by investing $2,000 of his own money. He still takes advantage of the low-interest rate guaranteed by the G. I. Bill—but he'll own his own house free and clear sooner, and at less cost.

For veteran and non-veteran alike, we have many flexible mortgage plans—suited to your particular home financing needs. Many are explained in our new booklet, "A Friendly Chat About Mortgages". Why not send for it (without obligation, of course) today!

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Newton and Brookline

On March 2 your columnist received a flock of phone-calls from apparently irate politicians at Brookline Town Hall who wanted to know why Newton could not mind its own business and let the voters of Brookline, wealthiest town in America, run its own elections. On inquiry from the Brookline gentlemen—I learned that there had been established a Vanta Citizens' Committee of Brookline and that some very unpleasant and derogatory circulars, UNSIGNED, save for the above reference to a committee, were being widely distributed around Coolidge Corner and in Brookline Village. The sole purpose of these circulars appeared to be to defeat for reelection to the Board of Selectmen one of the two war veterans currently running for office. This man is Edward Dane, President of the Brookline Trust Co. Dane is the head of the Vanta Company, formerly known as the Earnshaw Knitting Mills, where the workers have been on strike since January 3.

Well, this is really outside my jurisdiction, even though I do chance to write a weekly feature political column in Brookline as well as in Newton. It is only mentioned in this space today because those affected in Brookline seemed to think that I must of necessity know all the unpleasant details. Frankly I do not. My only contact with the Vanta Company is one of our most respected citizens and public servants. Therefore, I suggested to the Brookline gentlemen that they worry along on their own steam and settle their own private troubles in their own backyard. I might have something more to say about this matter after the voters of Brookline have made their own decision at the polls. (This column is being written on the day of the election.)

We of Massachusetts

Nobody has asked me to give any publicity to the organization; indeed, I only learned about it in a very roundabout way, but it seems to me that We of Massachusetts is one of the most interesting developments in the political arena in many, many years. Altho' it so happens that the founders of this unique organization all see eye-to-eye on the desirability of the election to the Governorship of Lt. Governor Robert F. Bradford of Cambridge, it seems to be a very sincere effort to band together voters of both parties, Republican and Democratic, not to mention the rapidly growing army of independent voters, for the purpose of electing good, clean-cut men to public office. In other words, the emphasis will be on men and issues rather than on party slates of candidates and party platforms. Furthermore, considerable attention will be given the constant problem of getting out the vote, both at primary elections and at the following elections. Far too many citizens are totally indifferent to political matters save at election time. The result is that we have quite a few undesirable men in public office and altogether too many fine citizens who refuse to run for office. We of Massachusetts hope to improve some of these conditions.

Locally, Maynard Hutchinson is the outstanding leader of this new movement. He is one of the two so-called Governors in the Tenth District. (This is identical with our Congressional District.) The other man is George L. Rabb of Brookline, an Assistant District Attorney of Norfolk County and a brother of Maxwell M. Rabb, formerly Secretary to Col. Henry Cabot Lodge.

This organization is run by a Board of Governors, thirty-six in all, two from each of the fourteen Congressional districts and eight members to be chosen from the Commonwealth at large. The President is William Dwight, editor of the Holyoke Transcript, widely-read western Massachusetts daily newspaper. The four Vice-Presidents are Mrs. George R. Wallace of Fitchburg, Mayo A. Shattuck of Hingham, Charles F. Moore of Wayland and Richard Blackmur of Arlington is Treasurer and Louis A. Webster of Blackstone, formerly Commissioner of Agriculture in this state is Secretary. Headquarters are at 8 Beacon street, Boston.

All the above is statistical. May I add my personal hope and belief that this new group will have a long and useful life.

Brownell Resigns

The recent resignation of Herbert Brownell, Jr., as chairman of the Republican National Committee points up the vital importance to the G. O. P. of filling this office with the very best man in the entire country. At the moment it seems to me that the Republicans have an excellent opportunity to regain control of the lower branch of Congress. PROVIDED that they do not fumble the ball or call some atrocious signal. For example, if the minority party should put in Brownell's place a typical Old Guard politician who still lives in the nineteenth century, mentally, the Democrats can cheer with glee. On the other hand, should the G. O. P. put in a man with too liberal views, who might refuse to co-operate tactfully with the ultra-conservative Republican politicians, the situation would be just as bad. Messrs. Lodge, Herter and Weeks of our own state have all been prominently mentioned. Good men all, but I doubt if the winner is in this group.

Anderson Inducted Commander of Coast Guard League

At ceremonies held at the Hotel Lenox, Boston on Wednesday evening, February 27, Winfield C. Anderson of 57 Elmhurst road, Newton was inducted commander of the Newton Chapter, No. 1 Coast Guard League.

Other officers are Robert W. Cox, vice-commander; Raymond Chapman, judge advocate; Peter Kean, paymaster; George E. Delaney, chaplain; Fred Hathaway, adjutant; Harold Trainor, sergeant-at-arms; Joseph Durocher, Fred Collegen and Albert Dulac, board of directors.

Formal presentation of the charter was made by Rear Admiral Wilford N. Derby, U. S. Coast Guard. The speaker was John C. Dowd of Weston, Coast Guard public relations consultant during World War II. Admiral Derby and Mr. Dowd were made honorary members of the Newton Chapter.

The next meeting of the league will be on the last Wednesday in June.

55 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, March 6, 1891
A new hotel, on a somewhat different plan from any other in Boston, has been opened by Mr. Joseph Lee at 186 Commonwealth avenue. The Abbottsford is modelled a good deal after the English private hotels, although they accommodate transients, while the Boston establishment will be occupied by permanent guests. Last night Mr. Lee invited a number of gentlemen to inspect the new hotel, and served them with one of the excellent dinners for which his Auburndale house, the Woodland Park, has become so well known.

There is a rumor current that a number of new houses are soon to be built on Eliot street down toward Newton Highlands.

19 families on Austin street, Newtonville, take milk from 10 different milkmen, thus encouraging a healthy competition which, it is claimed, ensures a creamy tone to that nutritious bovine tonic which is sometimes sold in a chummy palor and watery consistency.

That is a beautiful expanse of mud and water at the junction of Needham and Winchester streets, Newton Highlands. The residents of the vicinity who pass through it daily and tramp wearily to the railroad station, while the mud oozes clingingly and lovingly to their ankles, would not have that mud disturbed for anything. It has grown to be such a part of their daily life that their sensibilities would be severely shocked if the highway commission should fill up the hole. Commissioners, don't disturb that hole!

An exceptionally fine production of "Beau Brummel" was given this week on four evenings at Players' Hall for the benefit of the Smith College Endowment Fund. No one who has seen the performance can fail to appreciate the very fine acting of Mr. Geoffrey Baker as Beau Brummel. Mr. Baker is a Newton man and is well known for his dramatic ability, but the play this week showed his ability as an actor as never before.

Capitol Letters

by John Fenton

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

State House, Boston.—The 1946 legislative session is about ready for the final bobsled run to the finish line . . . most of the important bills already are in committee and before long, they ought to be loaded on the sled and the rush will be on . . . it isn't so much that these bills will be passed or rejected without further thought when they reach the floor of the legislature, but rather that the various committee chairmen must keep a sharp eye on the curves ahead to make sure nothing of value is spilled overboard on the run.

Three of the bills now in committee probably will undergo considerable revision before they are reported out . . . those are the Governor's pet million dollar project, a state department of commerce; his record-breaking budget and the Conley gasoline monopoly bill for the Logan airport.

It has been rather generally established by now that the present industrial development commission, within the comparatively narrow limits of its sphere, has been doing a good job on most of the functions suggested under the state department of commerce proposition, and that elsewhere agencies already exist to cover the other functions, and not at a million dollars a year, either . . . nothing would do more to attract new business to Massachusetts than lower taxes, and a million dollar political promotion scheme won't lower taxes.

As for the budget of 108 millions of dollars proposed by the Governor, the voter in almost every community in Massachusetts need only look at the local budget facing him to realize that he is in for a staggering burden of taxation this next year . . . the point to consider is whether, in face of all the increased salaries, welfare costs and rising material prices, some trimming of fancy items isn't in order.

The best way to let the state legislators know how the home front feels about the situation is to write and remind them that they come up for re-election in November, and that a whole lot of unnecessary spending isn't going to help candidates . . . The average American citizen can put the fabled Atlas to shame by his ability to carry tremendous tax burdens across his bent shoulders, but if he is going to be further weighed down by increased expenditures from Beacon Hill as well as in his own community, there is always the collapsing point to consider.

As for the Conley bill which would set up a gasoline monopoly at the airport, the thing to consider is whether or not this is the kind of thing that drives business away from Massachusetts . . . staunch opposition was expressed at the hearing on this bill . . . the next step is for the bill to appear on the floor of the legislature . . . there, your particular representative is going to be influenced by the letters he receives from his constituents.

Republican leadership in the House refused the other day to be drawn into a deal proposed by the Democrats . . . the immediate subject was a bill establishing a third probate judgeship in Middlesex County . . . on the evidence brought out at the hearing before the judiciary committee, this extra judgeship isn't necessary.

It later was established that the job was to go to a former Democratic floor leader . . . so the Democrats told the Republicans they would back a bill setting up a 10-year term for the registrar of motor vehicles if the Republicans would swing over to the judgeship bill.

The Republicans peeked behind the curtain and saw the cast gathered for the next act, and refused to take part . . . in the first place, the bills were not even remotely connected . . . in the second place, in face of the Governor's delaying tactics in filling several important state offices, including the expired term of Public Safety Commissioner John F. Stokes, there was no guarantee for the Democratic promise that the Governor would be asked to sign the 10-year term bill for the registrar . . . Legislative deals are bad enough, anyhow . . . this one was a little worse than usual.

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

This week's coach of the week is Reginald Smith, of N.H.S., head coach of Varsity Tennis, Assistant Coach of Basketball, and Trainer of all male athletic teams. Smitty, as he is called by all who know him, came to Newton in 1941 from Peoples Academy in Morrisville, Vermont. He is a graduate of Springfield College and has done work at the University of Vermont and at Boston University where he is currently working for his Master's Degree. Smitty is married and has a daughter. When asked by your reporter what his opinion of 1946 Tennis team would be, he replied, "The outlook for the Tennis team is uncertain. If Captain Woody Crowther, Bob Rich, John Segal, Champe Fisher, and Ed Verplank play the Tennis that they are capable of playing Newton will have a very good season." How can they miss with you for a coach Smitty?

Last Friday, March 1, was the occasion of a very successful and enjoyable dance held at the Newton Student Canteen, home of Newton's bobby-soxers. Over 200 teen age youths were present to dance to the versatile orchestra of Roger Harris, who played a variety of soft sweet and jazz music. All the members of the band are ex-servicemen, they are: saxophones, Ralph Thomas, Phil Kyle, Roger Harris; trumpets, Ridge Shepherd, Joe Larson; piano, Paul Haruman; drums, Tom McGrath; and the vocalist Bill Perkins had them swooning with his versions of several romantic ballads. Speaking of the Canteen some time next month will be their first anniversary and the Entertainment Committee under Sib Morriano is already working on the plans for this event. The canteen also has made plans to start its annual drive for donations some time in the near future.

For the past few months the words on the lips of almost all teen agers are, "When are the strikes going to end? Both Unions and Management preach brotherhood and good will, when are they going to practice it?" We, the teen age youth of this city are constantly being taught to love our neighbors while those, the adults, who are teaching us this are either anti-labor or anti-management. I am not saying that the unions are right and I am not saying that management is right but what I do say is that they both would be right if they sat down together and talked things over. The quicker this is done the quicker we, the youth, will be able to return to a normal life. Some of us have fought so that there could be both unions and managements; the ones that we fought for could show their appreciation in a better way than fighting with each other.

Recently it was suggested in an N.H.S. Legislature meeting that High School students should run the city for a day. This reporter likes the idea, write to us and let us know how you feel about it.

Betty Joslin was seen at the Totem Pole last week doing some real fancy footwork. . . . T. E. has been seeing a lot of Peggy Foley lately.

For a complete story with action pictures of the Tech Tourney see next week's Newton Graphic. It's bound to be good as the photos will be by Burton Woodward, play by play story by Mr. Ex, and feature angle by yours truly. Watch for it. —M.R.G.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen From The Newton League of Women Voters

DO YOU KNOCK ON WOOD?

Or do you keep your fingers crossed when you read about the troubles other city governments are having? Whichever you do will be effective if your city has foreseen the problems posed by overcrowded schools, unploughed streets, underpaid personnel, and a host of other difficulties associated with feeble planning. The sudden growth of a city, plus its constant flux, can and does strain the traditional set-up so carefully built by our forebears.

Newton has added over 11,000 to its population in recent years, and more than half of this figure represents an increase since last year. What repercussions can be expected in the form of taxation, zoning, schools, police, public health, local administration, and our representation in the state? Every year the Newton League of Women Voters holds a School of Public Affairs to acquaint the citizens of Newton with the processes of their city government. Naturally not every aspect can be covered but this year various officials will speak on Housing, Plan E, How Our City Functions, and Education in Newton, with liberal time for questions. Monday, March 25th, in a morning and afternoon session, is your opportunity to learn about the state of your city. Big. 5525

PLAN BEFORE YOU PLANT

PLAN YOUR GARDEN ON PAPER FIRST. Consult your seedsman for suggestions as to better planting, fertilizing and general care. Also ask him about new or more choice varieties of seeds. Eliminate those grown not well liked by the family but fill in that space with another choice. Increase your variety of foods to be selected from.

OUR SEEDSMAN, Mr. Norman Howden, has been in this business for 48 years. His record is a proven one. You can depend on his advice.

Alan Booth To Appear March 19
With Highland Glee Club of Newton

ALAN BOOTH

"Capt. Applejack" Presented
To Capacity Audiences
By Central Club Members

It's too bad the Central Club of the Central Congregational church at Newtonville can't run its sixteenth annual show "Captain Applejack" for at least another week. From what I saw and heard last Saturday evening at its Woodward Hall, the Arabian Night's Adventure story, which back in 1921 was a hit on Broadway, could play before capacity audiences for the next three weeks. It's what the small city amateur theatre needs. The price of 80c was reasonable. The setting, costuming, and makeup was good, it was above average for the amateur standing.

"Captain Applejack" is a story of a wealthy bachelor who craves for excitement and adventure, which he never found in his dormant sea shore mansion. Living so long with an aunt, and ward accustomed to the same customs every night, Ambrose Applejohn gets all his excitement and adventure in one evening. A Russian actress running away from what she calls the Russian Gestapo seeks refuge in his house. He hides her. A husband and wife seeking refuge from the storm enter his parlor. They turn out to be robbers searching for hidden treasure. That's too much for Ambrose Applejohn and he dreams of the pirate days when his descendant Pirate Captain Applejack was rough, tough and ready for action.

The timid and frightened Ambrose awakens to trick the married couple and also the Russian actress and her pursuants who turn out to be another robbing team. How he does it is something to see.

Alvin Whitmore as Ambrose, Harold Lounsbury as Ivan Borolsky the Russian, and Lorraine Holmes as Anna Valeska the tricky and convincing Russian star in distress do admirably well in the leading roles. All did stock work before and showed it. There were slips here and there Alan Booth was graduated from Newton High School in June 1942. From early childhood he has shown a definite talent for music and worked with D. Ralph Maclean at the age of 10. Shortly thereafter he showed a distinct leaning toward the pipe organ and continued his work, both on the organ and piano, with Mr. Maclean. Combined with a sensitive and unusual skill for musical values, his willingness to work during his high school days pointed to a career in which he early decided to choose the piano as his instrument.

Alan was a popular lad during his high school years, having a definite interest in athletics and played hockey. He was popular with his fellow students and teachers and served on senior committees.

In addition to membership in the Music Club, Glee Club, Boys' Chorus and orchestra while in high school, he continued his study with the hope of being able to enter Oberlin College, which later became a reality, in which he did much to help himself. In fact, Alan paid for his own music lessons as a young man by conducting an enormous paper route and doing odd jobs in and about Newton where he was a likeable young boy with an ambition—music.

He graduates this year from Oberlin with a good scholastic record, having completed his study of the organ, and has devoted this past year intensively to the piano. It has been a pleasure in that the Highland Glee Club have in some small measure been able to assist in the development of Alan Booth's preparation for larger accomplishments which are almost inevitable and a very warm welcome awaits his appearance at the March 19 concert.

Mr. Sears of the Sponsoring Membership Committee has called attention to the fact that folders, outlining the purpose of the Club, together with cards containing details of the March 19 concert, can be found at the Newton Main Public Library, as well as the Branches.

Inasmuch as there will not doubt be an active sale of individual tickets at the box office for this concert, it would be advisable to be on hand early since no seats are reserved.

in overacting and in the moving about on the stage, but the good showed up more than the bad.

The dream scene in Pirate Applejohn's cabin was in the fine melodrama taste and the fine audience drank in the cut-throat antics and love scenes with glee.

Yes, "Captain Applejack" would be a play worth seeing this week also. I wouldn't be surprised if a courageous producer attempts to revive the adventure-comedy (with changes of course).

IN and AROUND BOSTON

The Hub is now stacked high with theatrical hits and there are more coming. This is indeed the best season and Boston nighters are lucky to have seen most of the smash successes now playing in New York. At present they are flocking to second company showings of a few of the past-season money makers.

Continuing here for the next few weeks are three such smashers. "The Voice of the Turtle," now in its third season at the Morosco theatre in New York, is in its eleventh week at the Plymouth. Louisa Horton, Harvey Stephens and Peggy French act the three characters in the excellent comedy written by John van Drutan and produced by Alfred de Liagre. This is a return engagement for the "Turtle." The original cast of Margaret Sullivan, Elliott Nugent and Audrey Christie opened here three seasons back. Now playing the roles in New York are Martha Scott, John Beal and Vicki Cummings. Betty Field (born in Newton and now star of "Dream Girl" on Broadway) and Florence Rice have also played the roles of Sally Middleton. Sullivan is expected to go to England next season to play the leading role in an opening there. Nugent is in Hollywood writing a comedy for a Bob Hope flicker, and Christie just closed in "The Duchess Misbehaves." Van Drutan wrote "The Mermaids Singing" which debuted here and then closed in the Big City in January. His "I Remember Mama," however, is still a sell-out.

State of the Union at the Colonial is an exciting and snappy comedy written by the colossal team of Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse about a romantic involved and political liberal manufacturer tested as a possible Republican candidate for the Presidency in '48. Neil Hamilton, Judith Evelyn, and Rennie Head the company, at the Colonial. In the Gotham City S of the U is playing to standees with Ralph Bellamy and Ruth Hussey. Judith Evelyn runs true to form in this hit, she can play practically anything. Her last bit was "The Rich Full Life," a Gilbert Miller production which flopped three months back, however, Judith received good notices. She always does.

And "Carmen Jones," is back in Boston. Here's a musical you shouldn't miss. It's the return engagement of the modernized Negro version of Bizet's opera "Carmen" by book by Oscar Hammerstein 2nd. Buck and Bubbles are a good pair to watch. That fight scene can't be beat. And the music of course is the best.

Serge Koussevitsky and his Boston Symphony will feature at his regular Saturday evening concerts at Symphony Hall, the following: The Fourth Brandenburg concerto of Bach; Howard Hanson: Fourth Symphony; Sibelius: Sixth Symphony and Dmitri Kabalevsky: Second Symphony (first time)—Watch for two Symphony Hall shows this month which should draw heavy crowds. On Mar. 11, comes Eddie Condon's Jazz concert. He's tops in that department; and on March 24, appears, "The Strauss Festival," 40 Symphony players, and conducted by Oscar Straus, plus the soloist Mimi Benzell of the Met. Opera—Danny O'Neill radio tenor star and for 65 weeks the soloist of the well-known "Blue Jacket Choir" of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, will make his concert debut on St. Patrick's Day night, March 17 at Symphony Hall. He will be assisted by Ruby Newman and his concert orchestra—At New England Mutual Hall, on Tuesday evening, April 23, the Boston Tributary Theatre will renew its second annual Shakespearean Festival, "Romeo and Juliet," "Macbeth," "Love's Labour's Lost," and "Twelfth Night" will be featured. Alexander Borovsky, the noted Russian pianist will give a concert at Jordan Hall, Saturday afternoon, March 16. The last So-

N. C. Woman's Club
Presents 'The Torch Bearers'

"The Torch Bearers," the three act comedy written by George Kelly, which played at the Newton Centre Woman's Club last Friday evening, March 1, will never reach Broadway nor will its cast star alongside Lunt and Fontaine. . . yet Mrs. Daragh Higgins directed a courageous and vibrant group of amateurs (the wives and husbands of the club) which did receive spontaneous chuckles from the enthusiastic audience.

The comedy is a confused and tiresome play within a play dealing with a husband's sorry state of having to see his wife and his friends ruin the little theatre movement. He's ready to move out unless his wife as silly as she is returns to caring for the home. She relents and all ends well.

Mr. Kelly has slapstick mixed in a bottle and I was trying to figure out all evening when that bottle would open so someone in the cast could get some air. It's too talky, too much running around, and too much of everything.

However, the cast did display some talent, especially Henry Harmon who handled the role of Mr. Hossfrosse, the English speaking gentleman whose wife he done wrong. Joe Williams as Mr. Ritter, the husband who talks so philosophically about the rights and wrongs of the theatre showed up remarkably well for his first role as an actor.

Rita Toebes as Mrs. Ritter reminded me of Zazu Pitts, twisting that hanky. She really can be funny. Short and sweet Bunny Keller as Mrs. Fell, the promptress, giggled in her part like a real trouper.

The scenery was excellent for such a small production. The first and third act parlor scenes were as natural and warming as any household. The second act backstage scene, showing the cast of the play as they appear backstage was novel and in taste.

Credit goes to Mrs. F. Earle Conn, dramatic chairman, Mrs. W. Preble, Mrs. Carl Bohlin, and Mrs. Edward R. Broad. And whoever thought up the idea of having the stage manager of the play within the play read the Graphic as he sat tending the curtain? you deserve a special bouquet.

We hope the Newton Centre Woman's Club extends us the invitation to another show. They proved last Friday that they can act.

nata, Op 111 of Beethoven will be one of his selections.

Children—Notice! The Tributary Children's Theatre will repeat "Tom Sawyer" at the New England Mutual Hall this Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Their production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be given there on March 23 and 30. Tickets are now available for the Ezio Pinza, leading bass of the Metropolitan Opera, recital for Sunday, March 17. Victor Payne Jennings who produced the stage hit "Rebecca" goes in for staging the best sellers and hit films. His next is "The Song of Bernadette" the story of Bernadette Soubirous and the miracle of Lourdes with Elizabeth Ross in the title role. Opens March 18 at Wilbur. Patricia Morgan and Amy Fong take top gemine billing at the Globe and Old Howard respectively. Don't miss "Tomorrow the World" at the Keith Memorial. Claudette Colbert, Orson Welles and George Brent in the great drama of the lost husband, make this story reach down deep into the heart and soul—"The Last Weekend" at the Paramount and Fenway, could run on and on. If Ray Milland doesn't get the Academy Award the case will go to the Supreme Court. It will be the greatest robbery case ever—For a reviving-rollicking good time Gary Cooper and Barb Stanwyck are in "Meet John Doe" at the Majestic. It was a hit film a few years back.

March 3rd marked a silver anniversary for "Baby Snooks," portrayed over CBS by Fanny Brice. The comedienne introduced the now-famous terrible routine to her Palace Theatre (New York) vaudeville audiences 25 years ago.

Newton in the Field of Sports

Somerville High which Newton faced on Thursday at the Boston Garden won the greater Boston League hoop title with a record of 15 and 2 and they won the Tech Tourney championships for the past two years in a row. Remember Yale's Tony Lavelli the rangy star center of Somerville? No wonder they were great—Art Ballou sports editor of the Waltham News-Tribune suggests a Waltham-Newton semi-pro baseball league this season with possible entries as the Waltham City Club, Veducio Club, Nichols Machine, Waltham Watch, Waltham F. V. W. and another Newton team. Good suggestion.

Often wondered why Newton can't seem to form a Newton City Club. Most every other city has—Eliot Congregational copped the American Division of the Newton Church League with 9 wins and zero losses—Temple Emanuel, St. John's Methodist and First Congregational finished in that order behind the champion club. Eliot will now have to wait until the National League champion is crowned, and then the two league winners will compete for the World Series title. Second Congregational broke a first place tie with Central last week by beating the second place spotters 36-30 to take the lead. This Saturday night they face fifth place Newton Methodist while Central takes on St. John's Episcopal. An upset by Methodist and a win by Central will tie both teams again but it's not likely and the high flying Second Congregational club is expected to cop the title Saturday and meet Eliot for the championship next week. For the fourth straight year Gretchen Merrill, Newton's popular skating star won the national woman's figure skating title at the annual Boston Skating Club show. Sacred Heart High School closed its hoop season this week in its first season as Catholic League members and only second year playing organized basketball. Regardless of its poor showing the League next year will be more even and the school expects to come into its own as a leading contender for the title. St. Mary's Episcopal, Central set sinking long shots left and right. That's what killed the Orange in that opening half. The Coach Vinney team was just too hot and Newton could only manage four baskets, and four fouls in 16 minutes of the two periods.

But then the home five switched to a man-to-man defense and Somerville was stopped and stopped but good. Given more time Newton would have won out. If any man deserves credit for the last-half uplift it was Junior Rod Jennings. His teammates were all "great" in the revived battle but Jennings had to stand out, collecting seven points in the last four minutes of play and retrieving most of the blackboard shots.

Every man who played for Newton played "his heart out." Winning would have been wonderful, but to lose in the manner they did was something every Newton fan at the game should never forget.

Jennings starred for the Newtonites with 15 points but George Patterson was a standout on offense even though he garnered 8. Bob Scanlon was as fast and tricky as ever on the floor and came next with 6 points. Art Weinstock the husky guard played his outstanding game of the year. He was superb on defense, and offensively was in on the kill with 6 points. Gordon Carlisle played his steady guard spot as usual and even one better and Lev Brimblecom as substitute was indeed the handy and apt relief man.

We need not mention who got in Newton's hair all evening. Perry's name. He made 22 points.

Newton outscored Somerville 25-15 in the last half but then if they only could have done better in the first half is the story you'll hear in locker room circles. IF is the biggest word and the toughest to say at times.

First Quarter:

Not even six seconds flew by before John Quinlan sank a long shot to put Somerville ahead, 2-0. Then Capt. Al Perry and Jimmy Tsakos bucketed long ones for a 6-0 lead; Quinlan's hopshot shoved the count to 8-0.

Newton took time to talk over matters and they must have decided something for Red Jennings hung two foul shots. Gordon Carlisle swished a hopshot and Art Weinstock free tossed one in—all in succession—to put Newton in the game at last with five points. With a minute remaining Perry of Somerville arched another long one for a period reading of 10-5.

Second Quarter:

Weinstock hopped one in at the outset for seven points. His foul made it eight—then Bobby Scanlon drove through the defense with a sweet hop shot and two points to tie the game 10-10. Newton fans went wild—but then came the barrage. And barrage it was as Bill Mullaney and Perry sunk successive long ones to boost the lead again for Somerville 14-10. George Patterson hooked a two-pointer for Newton and 12 points. But Somerville's bombardment started again. Ten straight points via two free tosses by Clarence Stanford, another long one by Perry, two more foul shots by Mullaney, Perry's hopshot and Jimmy Karagioze's one-hander closed the half at 24-12.

Third Quarter:

Newton was like a hot iron coming out for the third period. Patterson opened with a hopshot on the topoff, Weinstock followed with another hopshot 20 seconds later. Scanlon then popped one in a minute later for Newton's third straight two-pointer and a score of 13. Perry then tallied two free tosses to raise Somerville's total to 26. Then the Huston five started again with Jennings pacing the outfit with two foul shots, and two baskets, the last one, a honey of a dribble-jumpup marker to close the stanza 26-24.

Fourth Quarter:

Somerville upped its score three points on Perry's foul and Stanford's two-pointer. Patterson retaliated however and his hopshot gave Newton 26. Karagioze lifted one free toss for a Somerville four-point lead 30-26. Pat, teaming up with a Weinstock assist netted another marker. But there was Perry with his hopshot and Somerville led 32-28. The fans went wild though as Jennings and Scanlon swished two baskets in succession to tie the game at 32 all. But Perry—that pest again—bucketed one handsome long one, and Jennings evened that up with another under-the-basket two-pointer for 34-34. Two minutes remaining and Perry (he again!) sank a mid-center one-hander and Jennings (yup again) evened it once more 36-36. His foul shot afterwards put Newton in the lead for the first time all evening, but Perry made us pull our hair by sinking a foul of his own. Six seconds left—and Somerville took the ball out under the basket as a Newton thrust failed. The pass went to Perry and you guessed it—a last-chance long shot from the side floor and that was the game. Comments from the side line. . . Never was there a more thrilling battle played in the tourney.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club met at the Club House on Tuesday afternoon, March 5th, at 2:30. Miss Estelle G. Marsh, president, welcomed the large number of members and guests present. Two verses of the National Anthem were sung, led by Mrs. Carl Baesler, chairman of Music, with Mrs. Harold G. Osterland, at the piano. The pledge of allegiance to the Flag followed.

Mrs. Ralph G. Swain, Fourth Vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, was a platform guest, and brought greetings from the state organization. Mrs. Swain stressed the present need of trained leadership, and the great need for sympathetic help and understanding of the problems of the returned veteran and the teen age group.

A musical interlude followed, with Miss Nina Spaulding, violinist and Miss Helen Henry, accompanist. Miss Spaulding, a member of Leo Litwin's all-girl orchestra, studied with Richard Burgin, of the Boston Symphony, and played with much feeling and charm. Her numbers were: Liebesfreude, by Kreisler; Romance, by Fradkin; Spanish Dance by Rehfeld; the Mexican folk song, Estrellita; Tango, by Gade and a medley of Airs from the works of Victor Herbert.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, former president of the Club, and chairman for the afternoon, conducted the second half of the program. Mrs. Palmer is one of the Originators of the Bank Day which for eighteen years has been observed by the club. These meetings have been open to the public, and all women of the community cordially invited to attend. The speakers, all men outstanding in their special fields, are heard through the courtesy of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Dr. Thomas P. Brockway, author and lecturer, was the distinguished speaker introduced by Mrs. Palmer. He is the author of "Battles without Bullets," and "A Peace that Pays"; he is also a recognized authority on International Relations and has held professorships at Yale and Dartmouth Universities. His subject was "Prospects for Peace." He pointed out that the sudden coming of peace, in this war followed in a certain sense, the pattern of 1919, and a certain disillusionment of the Allies, but that the United Nations Organizations would not suffer the same fate as the League of Nations. This is due partly to the fact of the very real part of the United States had in the War and the realistic attitude of the U.N.O. He also paid real tribute to the work done in the six months preceding the meeting in London by the various committees, before the coming together of the 51 nations, and the openness with which all questions were discussed. Dr. Brockway stressed the role of the United States in world affairs, and the important part it played in forming the U.N.O. In the nineteenth century, England was the leader in world affairs, in the twentieth century, the leadership has fallen to the United States. The Club is indeed grateful for being allowed to present such a fine program.

Tea followed in the Social Hall. Pourers at the tea tables were, Mrs. Alfred A. Miner, Mrs. Theodore Reed and Mrs. Perez B. Howard.

An exhibition of oil paintings and water colors by Lieut. Warren Beach were on display in the hall. Lieut. Beach spent two years in Alaska, and the Aleutian Islands, where he lived in Sitka, and on the Adak Island. The large oils were sketched in by pencil and finished later under electric lights in a quonset hut. Many delightful exhibitions are arranged for the club during the year, by Mrs. Philip E. Goodhue, the chairman of Arts and Preservation of Antiques.

Rotary Club

Herbert Black, Foreign News Section editor of the Boston Evening Globe, spoke on "Men and Events Shaping the News" at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

The speaker who was introduced by Harold Gores depicted Russia with its present influence in Europe and Asia as a major factor in the world news of today. Russia's conflict with Germany before the war; her internal governmental and economic problems; and the difference between the Communistic and Capitalistic systems—resulted in the Russian atmosphere of fear and insecurity.

The speaker commented on the fact that British-American accord is necessary for stability of world trade. He pointed out the importance of a definite stand by England and America in regard to the current French-Spanish incident. Your RED CROSS must carry on — GIVE!

"You'll be okay, Soldier!"

HIGH UP on the crowded deck of a hospital ship, a homesick Yank strains his eyes for a sign of home. On the dock below he sees a Red Cross Motor Corps driver. At the sight of her heart-warming smile, he knows she's saying:

"You'll be okay, Soldier!"

He knows, because he's heard other Red Cross girls say those same simple words of cheer. On Luzon. In the hospital. On the dock where he took ship for home. Aboard the hospital ship.

He knows that they are not mere words, for he has seen the helpful service that inspires them. He knows, too, that he can find the same friendly, understanding helpfulness in his home town Red Cross chapter.

And while this girl and her comrades throughout the world represent the Red Cross, in reality you are the Red Cross. She, the Red Cross worker, is still needed. You who make the Red Cross possible also are still needed. Without you there would be no Red Cross.

So let your dollars follow your heart. Give to the Red Cross. Give all you possibly can.

"We should get playground lots before the city is overbuilt," Chairman Kellaway declared. The land is all around now that could be used, and we must procure it before it is too late. If we do so now, the increased value of the surrounding land will partially take care of the cost."

It is false economy he said to postpone these developments and improvements as taking them now will mean increased value in assessments, and later on when we will be practically forced to have them, the expense would be greater.

ization and a period of semi-invalidism for many months. The serviceman was notified and Home Service sent a verification of the situation. The military granted him an emergency furlough and, after some unavoidable delay, he reached his wife before she entered the hospital.

Her mind was free from worry since she knew her family would be cared for adequately by their soldier daddy. During the critical stages of her illness, the serviceman asked the military for an extension of furlough. The necessity for this was verified not once, but several times, by Home Service, and the furloughs were granted. Then came the time when he was ordered back to duty. Some plan had to be made for the care of his family while he was away, since no relatives were available to assist.

After much searching, Home Service found someone who went into the home on a temporary basis with Red Cross assuming the financial obligation because the government allowance would not stretch to cover this emergency. When the serviceman finally returned to his unit, he left his family safely in the care of a housekeeper who agreed to stay as long as necessary. Red Cross stood by until the serviceman, whose long months overseas entitled him to discharge, came back to his family, and was in a position to resume his responsibility for their welfare.

In Memory of the Passing of Mrs. Blanche Gaylord Norris of 23 Glenwood Avenue Newton Centre

Lovely lady, now the years have claimed thee
Know thou, that you have not gone in vain.
Sleep, and gently, for you'll always be remembered
As one who worked, that other ones might gain.

Lovely lady, with your quiet sweetness
You have gone, but there's a reverence with your name.
Slumber softly, with a well-earned satisfaction
You have carved your place within the Hall of Fame.

Lovely lady, with your soul so noble
And stately, as those Gothic towers high
Rest sweetly, with the great who've gone before you
And know that you are one of them—Good-bye.

Music School Prepares for 35th Anniversary

On Monday evening, March 4, an interesting program of unusual music was presented at the Clafin headquarters of the All Newton Music School by members of the faculty, Miss Irene Forte, Mrs. Mary Scipione, and Miss Ruth Spencer, assisted by Miss Mary Ryan, Miss Mary Ruggles, and Mrs. Dorothy Perry. The numbers included Dohnanyi Quintet, Op. 1, Beethoven Quartet, Op. 18 No. 3, and Brahms Quintet in F minor, Op. 34. This event was the second one of a series of Monday evening musicales, all of which are open to the public. The next one will take place on Monday, March 25, at 8:15 p.m., the program for which will be announced later.

The All Newton Music School will celebrate its thirty-fifth anniversary in April of this year. In recognition of this milestone, and as a special honor to Miss Elizabeth Effe, founder and director emerita, it is planned to hold an anniversary dinner on Friday evening, April 5, at the Newton Y.M.C.A. building.

In preparation for this coming event, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the committee in charge, will sponsor a morning coffee for the Mothers' Auxiliary committee on Friday, March 8, at 10:30 o'clock.

In response to a request for volunteers, an enthusiastic group of mothers from every part of Newton will attend. Assisting Mrs. Hay in receiving will be members of the Board of Trustees, staff, and faculty of the Music School.

Warren Junior High School News

Warren Junior High School reopened after the winter vacation with most of its faculty and pupils back at their desks after many weeks of long absence lists due to prevalent illnesses. Room 209, however, is still awaiting the return of their teacher, Miss Eleanor Stone, who has been confined to the hospital. Room 102 was sorry to lose their homeroom teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Gill, who retired after many years of service in the Newton schools. Her post is being filled by Mr. Malcolm P. Gallagher who, for the past three years, has taught at Newton High School in the History Department and has assisted with the coaching of the football and track teams.

Home Rooms 12 and 205B tied for first place in the Jr. I girls' basketball tournament. Room 205C came in second, and Room 101 and 102 tied for third place. Room 12 and 205B will share the honor of displaying the basketball banner for the rest of the year.

The Warren School Community learned with deep sorrow of the death last week of Mr. Frederick A. Rice of Wakefield, Mass., father of Miss Dorothy L. Rice, Jr. III teacher of Junior Business Training and Office Training.

At a recent assembly Helen Black of Junior II, took top honor in a musical quiz program. Eleanor Penney of Jr. III won

Newton High School News

Report cards on Monday last, marked the end of the third term and the beginning of the fast-fleeing weeks of the school year. Teachers and pupils are now having the annual stocktaking of what must be done in the few remaining months. Already some pupils are finding jobs for summer employment.

There are at present more than ninety veterans studying in Newton High. This number does not include those who were taking refresher work in Newton and have now been admitted to colleges and universities.

The Curriculum Committee of the High School Faculty is having regular meetings now for planning next year's program of courses.

Dr. J. Edgar Park, former president of Wheaton College, was the guest of the English Club on March 5. He gave a highly interesting talk to a large group of pupils and teachers.

Edward Gallagher, B.B.B. Executive At Kiwanis Luncheon

Mr. Edward Gallagher, of the Boston Better Business Bureau, speaking at the noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the Y.M.C.A., Wednesday, told of the improvement in business ethics during the past 10 years and of the Bureau's efforts to promote "decency, honesty and courtesy" in all dealings between merchant and consumer.

"Bait advertising," whereby prospective customers are lured inside the doors of a business establishment, only to find the article advertised "has just been sold out, but something as good is still available," is no longer popular, due to the Better Business Bureau's efforts, Mr. Gallagher said. As a matter of fact, the speaker continued, due to the local radio stations' cooperation, this type

Thirty-five Years of Progress, Record of All Newton Music School

On April 21, 1911 Elizabeth Fyffe, a public spirited citizen of Newton, opened a small music school at the West Newton Day Nursery which kindly lent its rooms for the experiment. There were 32 pupils enrolled by the end of the year.

Through that first year, the work was supported by the following financial founders: Mrs. John W. Carter, Mr. Harry L. Burrage, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Carter, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Day, and the Honorable and Mrs. John W. Weeks. As it became obvious that the work was needed and was of social as well as musical value, other public spirited people joined this group, and the school was incorporated under the name of West Newton Music School.

Soon after this, in October 1912, the Newton school committee granted permission to the music school to use public school (Continued on Page 3)

"Must Work Together in Peace As in War," Tells Audience

Catch Up With Deer in Kitchen

We've heard of wild goose chases but whoever heard of seeing gangs of children and adults of two cities chasing a runaway deer?

It happened last week. The buck—8 months old and weighing 50 lbs.—came from out of nowhere, was spotted in Watertown square, and the chase began there. It then swam the river over to the Newton side and Newtonites took over.

The exhausted animal finally ended up—one antler broken, a cut lip, and broken foreleg—at the home of Mrs. Laura Spence of 21 Hovey street. Her grandson George Flynn picked up the deer in his arms, carried it into the kitchen, tended to it, and then waited for the police to transfer the buck to the Craft street stables.

If Chief State Conservation Officer Lloyd Walker reads this... George Flynn would like to own Buck!

Speaking on "Peace and Post-War Problems" at the meeting of the Holy Name Society of the Church of Our Lady, Newton on Sunday evening, John F. Kennedy, a Naval officer of World War II and son of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy in discussing the post-war era said: "We face critical times. A great political theorist once said, 'War is fatal to a democracy. If beaten, it loses its liberty at the hands of its enemy. If victorious, it loses its liberty at its own hands.' The years ahead will require the greatest political and financial skill. The challenge is great. It is my belief that if we work together in peace as we did in war, we shall meet that challenge successfully. We must recognize our mutual interdependence in peace as McMahon and the others recognized it in war."

Suggesting that the U. S. has much to learn from the election in England last summer, Kennedy said: "England was a country that, (Continued on Page 5)

A Week To Remember

Today the world is face to face with mankind's worst enemy — hate, says the Laymen's National Committee, in outlining its program for National Sunday School Week, April 8 to 14. "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6.

In seeking the widest possible support for Sunday School Week, the Committee has asked the President of the United States and the governors of each state to cooperate in some appropriate manner. Mayors throughout the country will be asked to pay tribute in 15-minute radio addresses. One or more feature radio programs participated in by outstanding talent, are contemplated. Chambers of Commerce will be asked to display the National Sunday School Week posters in cities throughout the land. The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls assist. Editors, columnists and commentators aid in the national movement, while many corporations help create interest through their radio programs. Ministers, fraternal and service organizations and feature writers will seek to popularize this worthy cause and urge parents to encourage their children to attend Sunday School during National Sunday School Week.

While such an occasion is not a cure-all for current disregard of Christian principles, by many adults as well as children, it is a step in the direction of tolerance and good will toward all mankind. Never in the history of the world was it so important that every individual accept his responsibility for making the future in which we must live, better instead of worse. Sunday School Week is a place to start.

Red Cross Home Service Pledges Aid To Newton Veterans

Miss Ethel Knight, Home Service Secretary of the Newton Red Cross, has just returned from a two week's training course in New York. This intensive course was planned as a review of Home Service responsibility to men in active service and their dependents, which will continue uninterrupted, both in this country and overseas, as long as there is need.

"The highlight of the course," said Miss Knight, "was the concentrated review of Red Cross service to all veterans and their dependents." If assistance is requested, Red Cross is one of the organizations which can represent claimants for government benefits such as pensions, insurance, or hospital and medical care. "This service is facilitated by the fact that American Red Cross Home Service workers in the local Chapters work in close cooperation with Red Cross Field Directors located in Veterans' Administration offices where actual adjudications of claims are made," explained Miss Knight. "This assures the claimant being represented before the rating boards by an individual thoroughly familiar with his particular situation."

Hand in hand with claims service, Red Cross offers other types of assistance to veterans such as information on and assistance with education, apprenticeships, vocational training and other government benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, and information on legislation affecting the veteran and his dependents.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Lodge vs. Walsh

It has been my opinion for many months that Col. Henry Cabot Lodge would never run against Senator David I. Walsh, who comes up for re-election this fall. Recently, however, there have been persistent reports that Lodge might take a long chance and try to unseat the Clinton veteran. We have been told to listen carefully to the G. O. P. leader's big speech on St. Patrick's Day. If that affair should go over in a big way, the former Senator might make the race after all.

In this connection, my readers' attention is called to the March 2 issue of Life magazine, which features "Senators Up For Re-election" and prints pictures of the thirty-three U. S. Senators whose terms expire this year and who are expected to run once more. (There are really thirty-five Senators in this category, but Hart of Connecticut and Andrews of Florida have announced their retirement.) Life asked a panel of top-ranking Washington correspondents of varying political beliefs for their opinions of these men. Life also asked reporters, business associates and friends in the home states for impressions of the Senators, based not on the Senators' political stands but solely on their fitness for such a responsible job.

Now to the point. Under the picture of our own Senator Walsh is the following: "Opinion: No good. Narrow. The Senate would be better off without him." Could it be that the above comments are one of the reasons why Henry Cabot Lodge is still marking time? It should be borne in mind, however, that Life had other things to say about the venerable Clinton statesman. For example: "The most powerful politician in New England" and "still the idol of the Irish, Italians and Poles." Again, "Once he was a reforming zealot and patron of the laboring man. Now the fires in him have burned low. At 73 his capacity for new work is small. If he wants to run, again however, he would be difficult to defeat." It is this last comment which may be worrying our former Republican Junior Senator.

Later on this year it may be helpful to quote a bit more from this profoundly interesting issue of Life.

Ickes and Roosevelt

You have doubtless read in the papers about the current activities of former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and young James Roosevelt. The former is now executive chairman of the Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions and young Roosevelt is national political director of the organization. It is planned to mobilize 10,000,000 independent voters with a committee of white and Negro artists, scientists and professional people. Prominent among the leaders of this very interesting movement are Joseph E. Davies, former Ambassador to Moscow, former Mayor La Guardia of New York, currently holding forth over the airwaves on Sunday evenings, Frank Sinatra, Bill Mauldin, G. I. cartoonist and the following popular Negro "greats": Duke Ellington, band leader, Hazel Scott, pianist, Langston Hughes, author and Paul Robeson, singer.

Although this aggregation is definitely left-wing, it does not appear to be Communistic. Ickes has made no threat to form a third party. He does, however, say this: "The members of the Independent Citizens' Committee are watching their representatives in Congress. All the facilities of this organization will be available for the election and re-election of aggressive, qualified progressives and for the defeat of timid, controlled or re### actionary obstructionists."

Offhand, it occurs to me that an organization of this type, if properly handled, might conceivably hold the balance of power, both in the Congressional elections this fall and in the Presidential elections in 1948. It would be smart for both the major parties to watch their step closely from now on. There is ample room for improvement in both the Democratic and in the Republican organization.

Southern Democrats and the G.O.P.

Frankly, it is a bit disturbing to hear over the radio about the plans to make a more definite tie-up between the Southern Democrats in Congress and the Republican minority bloc. To be sure, it has been obvious to all informed people for some little time that these two groups have been working together behind the scenes. The combination has succeeded in defeating quite a bit of legislation as well in enacting quite a bit. I wonder, though, if it is healthy to officially organize these two groups. What will happen to the two major parties if this coalition becomes permanent? The mere fact that many of us may be in sympathy with some of the work the coalition has done should not blind us to the eventual consequences of any permanent coalition.

Weekly Quiz

Last week's quiz was omitted. The answer to the question of the previous week is: The Bull Moose party of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 derived its name from a statement by the famous T. R. that he felt "like a Bull Moose." This week the question is: "What happened to the Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution which Congress referred to the states in 1924?" P.W.C.

Hospital Aid Association Plan Annual Bridge

Plans for the eighth annual bridge, to be held on May 14th, were discussed at the monthly meeting of the directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association in the lounge of the Nurses' Home of the hospital Tuesday morning. The President, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, presided. Mrs. Alexander McWolfe and Mrs. Worthington L. West are co-chairmen of the bridge and all of their assisting chairmen have been selected and will be announced later.

Mrs. Frank R. Clark, as chairman of tickets, will be assisted by twelve sub-chairmen serving from ten of the Newtons and Wellesleys and through whom tickets for the bridge may be reserved. Mrs. Clark's assistants are: Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Auburndale; Mrs. Francis H. Williams, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Clarence C. Colby, Newton; Mrs. Gordon B. Wilkes, Newton Centre; Mrs. Ralph D. Thompson, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Melville M. Ames, Lower Falls; Miss Madeline Cobb, Upper Falls; Mrs. Robert Whitehill, Newtonville; Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, Waban; Mrs. Edward W. Pride, West Newton; and Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall, Wellesley.

The manager of the Benefit Shop, Mrs. Francis H. Williams, reported on the month's work and asked for volunteers to help in place of regular workers who are ill or away. She asked for apron material and for ornaments for the shop window.

Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of the Coffee Shop, told of the shop's continued success. She reported also on the meeting of the New England Hospital Assembly held in Boston, March 11th, 12th and 13th which she attended. The round-table on Hospital Service Shops was chaired by Gerhard Hartman, director of Newton-Wellesley Hospital and three of the six speakers were from the Newton shop: Mrs. Theron B. Walker, opened the discussion and Mrs. Walter L.

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, March 13, 1891
One of the new style letter boxes has been placed at the corner of Hovey and Jewett streets, Newton, and the problem with those who visit it for the first time is how to get letters in.

Mr. Albert Adams will open an eating saloon in the new wooden block on Washington street, Newtonville.

The new patrol wagon house and stable is completed (West Newton.) It has its outs, but it is on the whole a substantial, pretty structure.

In the list of patents issued March 6th from the patent office, Mr. F. W. Cole, of Newton Highlands, has one for a signal box.

50 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, March 13, 1896
A petition for free postal delivery for the south side of the city is being circulated in Newton Highlands and Newton Centre, and is being very generally signed. The scheme proposed provides for a central postoffice at Newton Highlands and would provide free delivery for Newton Centre, the Highlands, Upper Falls and Chestnut Hill. The government inspectors have already been over the ground and are said to favor the plan proposed by the citizens.

According to the mortality statistics of the board of health just issued for the month of February, the number of deaths in the city were 38 against 45 for January and 44 for the same month in '95.

Mr. Sterling Elliott, president of the L. A. W., left for Washington, Wednesday, in answer to a summons to be present at a hearing on the bill to establish a National Highway Commission.

City Hall Digest

MAYOR-ALDERMAN:

The news from this department concerns the undertaking of the remodeling of Newton Corner so that big business will be attracted. The plans are to remove the twin Newton banks and also stores on the east side of the Centre street corner. In its place there are hopes of building a beautifying garden to justify the name "Garden City." The vacant areas will ease the traffic problem and help in business auto parking. Something should come out of the Alderman meeting on the 18th. Nothing could be better for the Corner.

RECREATION:

Mr. F. Ewing Wilson Recreation Commissioner intends to add new recreation buildings throughout the city at various playgrounds. The list covers Newton Centre Newton Highlands, Upper Falls, Cold Springs, West Newton Common, Victory Field in Thompsonville and Albermarle and Hawthorne. Estimate cost $255,000.

The proposals are good when and if the funds come through. But the Recreation Department could very well sit down and plan new ideas and arrange new activities in the way of club houses, boys' tournaments, indoor social and cultural halls, father and son's nights, etc. . . . and the cost would be very slight especially when Women Clubs, Men Clubs and other leading city agencies lend a hand to care for its youth.

STREET DEPARTMENT:

The bad weather has caused miserable damage to roads and streets and complaints have been heavy yet the crews have been on the job and every day some new construction is being handled. Harold Young, Street Commissioner, is very optimistic over new equipment which would be on par with the best in the country for street care and as soon as the government, labor and management straighten out difficulties over prices, and other disputes, the department will go to work on improvements.

MUNICIPAL:

Here's a proposal to build a municipal veterans building on a site adjoining or near the present City Hall. It will have a large auditorium where meetings can be held, to serve as a health centre, and house a central library.

A wonderful idea. This could stand for the shrine of Good City Government in the Post War World, an example of what the typical ideal city should do for its veterans and communities.

McGill and Miss Florence Marble also spoke.

Two-hundred and twenty new members have been added to the association since the first of the year through the efforts of Mrs. Frank R. Clark, membership chairman.

Speaker of the morning was Dr. Charles Liebman, chief roentgenologist of the hospital, who told of the work of the x-ray department. Newton-Wellesley hospital is equipped as well as any hospital of its size in the country and is qualified by the American Medical Association to train men. The department has a staff of nine technicians and assistants and operates twenty-four hours a day. This year is the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of x-ray, an accidental discovery made by Conrad Rentkin, a German. It has been of inestimable value to mankind, both for diagnosis and for treatment, Dr. Liebman said.

Hostesses at morning coffee were Mrs. Clarence C. Colby and Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland and their assistants, as pourers, were Mrs. Harold R. Keller and Miss Mary Steeves.

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir:

The Pine Street Dump in West Newton which is being filled in with papers, cartons and other refuse in addition to ashes is now so close to River Street opposite William Street that it is not only a most unsightly view for residents of that section but is also an extremely dangerous fire hazard.

On windy days such as last Saturday a continuous shower of paper of all sizes is blown over the fence at the dump and across River street into yards on River Street, William Street and other surrounding property. Even large cartons are deposited in the yards by the high winds and streamers of paper hang in the trees. Should a fire occur on such a day at the dump, the damage to homes in the vicinity could be serious.

Fires occurred all last summer on the Pine Street side of the dump, smoke from which was annoying to the neighborhood, and pieces of burned paper were blown over as far as William Street and even further, soiling clothes hung out on lines, and even the screens and porches were covered with flecks of burned paper. Windows had to be closed on these occasions which made matters more uncomfortable, and following the fires there came a very unpleasant odor detrimental to the health of the community.

Nearly all residents of this section are homeowners and taxpayers who take pride in keeping their property well-cared for and they do not enjoy having their yards filled with debris or their homes in danger of being destroyed by fire. In fact they are very much provoked and cannot understand why such a condition should exist in a city like Newton which prides itself on being known as "The Garden City" and especially as some time ago the City of Newton purchased an incinerator which was supposed to be used for the disposal of papers and other inflammable materials collected by the city trucks.

It is time these residents of West Newton were given some consideration!

A West Newton Resident
March 12, 1946

To The Editor:

The usual town meetings take place in towns of the Commonwealth on March but the Cities are governed by a Mayor and a board of Aldermen so that the general public do not have the public touch with all the matters that deal with outlook and general control of things to come. Of course there are public hearings but they do not reach the general public like a town meeting of the old New England type.

In its place there is the Improvement Associations of the various villages of Newton that make various suggestions for the betterment of their community. Take the Newton Centre Improvement Association for instance, it has in the past been very far-sighted looking and helpful in the matters that relate to the public welfare and beauty of this vicinity. The president and the other officers are community minded and are elected for terms of office varying from one to three years. They try and carry out the desires of the members as expressed at the annual meeting.

There are various items that the N.C.I.A. are working upon which will be a betterment of the city. One of them is the making of the Crystal Lake Shore facing upon Norwood avenue into a park and playground. This is perhaps a dream but if this dream comes true the space now open will become a beauty spot that will enhance the value of adjoining land and be a help for the public to relax and enjoy themselves. Life in the future in Cities and Towns will be helped very much if open spaces are now provided at low cost and without too much expense for development.

Boston Common was given years ago. The Common at Newton Centre was given or deeded years ago such is the benefit of the far-seeing people of those days. Should not we of today look ahead a little and secure something that will be revered by future generations.

Herbert J. Kellaway.

Committee for Dessert Bridge Announced

Rep. Rawson Files Bill on Registration of Voters

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton has filed House Bill No. 1576 as chairman of the Committee on Election Laws. This bill provides that in cities and in towns having six hundred or more registered voters, any qualified person shall be registered as a voter during regular business hours of the city or town hall on application except within 20 days preceding a primary or an election. The bill amends an act passed in 1945 which provided for such continuous registration in cities and in towns over ten thousand inhabitants.

The GRAPHIC
Reviews

For over three years the "Voice of the Turtle" has done a thriving business on Broadway and for the past ten weeks it has delighted Boston audiences at the Plymouth. . . Yet the play has a cast of only three. It has to depend far more on talk than on vital action which so many modern theatre goers crave. . . still it's such a solid success that like "Old Man River" it just keeps rolling along.

What's the secret? Well first there's playwright John Van Drutan's clever dialogue. . . Van Drutan's a master of witty barbed dialogue. There isn't a dull line in the play and even more astounding, not a kernel of corn either.

Next there's Van Drutan's piercing insight into many human frailties, in fact he's so anxious to dramatize these frailties that he makes himself appear cynical. A master at focusing attention on some of the smaller things in life and then dramatizing them until they really attain significance, Van Drutan often teases his audience by posing serious questions then tossing the aisle sitters a wise crack for a solution. His innuendoes are so clear that in reality they're scarcely innuendoes at all.

Next Van Drutan is current, fresh and timely, his witty witticisms about GI's such as a chiding "Oh never ask a soldier what the war's about," reveal a mordant sense of humor and an ability to write light comedy which will catch the public's fancy.

In "Voice of the Turtle" the author's timing and sense of proportion were superb. Speeches and events followed in logical order, thus the play crescendoed to a natural and dramatically intense climax. This vitally important timing factor is the backbone of the play and a lack of it cost Van Drutan's latest effort "The Mermaids Singing" success on Broadway. This ill-fated venture had a splendid first act but it ran out of gas as it headed down the home stretch. It is ironic but where "Voice of the Turtle" was strongest, "Mermaids Singing" was weakest.

Ticket Sale Indicates
Sell-out for Highland
Glee Club Concert

The individual ticket sale for next Tuesday night's concert of the Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc. augurs for a capacity house.

With the largest Sponsoring Membership list in many years, there has been an active demand for extra tickets from their Sponsors, together with the box office demand.

It is quite exciting to realize that much of the interest in this coming concert centers around the appearance of Alan Booth, who is being presented as soloist.

If the weather man is good to us, a pleasant evening is in store.

In and Around
Boston

By Rod Exelbert
Boston has really become theatrical, and musical conscious. The marquee spell out smash hits and Symphony Hall programs are replete with soloist stars.

At least three weeks too early for the date yet not too early for ordering tickets we suggest mailing out now for the Jose
Iturbi and sister Amparo Iturbi's concerts to be given at Symphony Hall Tuesday evening,
April 2. The two concert pianists are now on a country wide tour playing to capacity audiences.

Mr. Iturbi will play several selections from his motion picture successes. . . Gotham stars are coming to town in bunches. Gladys Swarthout, the Met Opera soprano, guests here at the Boston Morning Musicals in aid of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy Wednesday morning, March 20 at the ballroom of the Hotel Statler, and then there's the famous young conductor, composer and concert pianist Leonard Bernstein to take over the Boston Symphony, March 22 and 23.

THEATRE: Pop! comes another musical into town. This one is "Love in the Snow." A new musical romance "tis called, written by Rowland Leigh, and to play at the Shubert, March 18. Depending more on singing and a bevy of dancing chorines, the show has no star cast. But then "Nellie Bly" and "The Duchess Misbehaves" reeked with stars lasted no longer than a week in the Big City. Musicals are real tough to put over. It has to be another "Are You With It," or "Show Boat," or "Red Mill" to make the critic take notice. That's tough sleighing for "Love in the Snow" but then the theatre business is a funny one. . . "Judy O'Connor" moves into the Copley Tuesday evening, March 26. Don DeFore is the name star here but then Spencer Tracy couldn't help "Strange Fruit" any. However, we hear "Judy" is a good book and DeFore can act, and looks good on the stage. This will be another Hollywood test of cineman coming down to meet the theatre.

WORDS: To say about the deplorable conditions which existed in Europe of the displaced refugees. A stirring drama play around two escaped Allied prisoners and fleeing refugees trying to find refuge from the German army sacking Italy.

FORGET-ME-NOTS: That's cross fingers for remembrance on Ezio Pinzo's concert at Symphony Hall, March 17. The Met's opera baritone will include arias from Handel, D'Astoria, Lull and Gasparini. . . and also the Strauss Festival at Symphony Hall, March 24. For jazz fans Woody Herman picked the tempo for a March 31 date also at the Hall. The Herman will feature "Ebony Concerto" composed for Woody by Igor Stravinsky. Then there's this Saturday afternoon's concert at Jordan Hall by Alexander Borovsky the noted pianist who shall play popular selections such as Prelude and Fugue in E Major—Opp. 111 Beethoven and Polesian F Sharp Minor, Chopin. (Well that takes in opera, Strauss music, Woody Herman's style and a pianist.)

APRIL SHOWERS: Brings "Annie Get Your Gun" April 2—a musical starring Ethel Merman which should be good if Ethel is in it. buildings for its teaching, group activities, recitals, and concerts, —a privilege ever since gratefully maintained. This cooperation between a private and a public agency has caused favorable attention and comment throughout the country. It has been referred to as a perfect demonstration of practical democracy.

As the scope of the work widened and students began coming from every village in Newton, the name of the school was changed in 1925 to meet the situation, and it then became the All Newton Music School, Inc.

From the very beginning the objectives of the music school have been first, to offer sound musical education of the highest standards at moderate rates, to people with a strong desire to have music in their homes and lives; second, to train students not only to play a chosen instrument, but also to offer them those activities which supplement and reinforce the actual music lesson, and help them learn how to make music a valuable part of daily living.

Thirty-five years of steady progress with work uniformly of the highest quality, has brought the music school to a capacity enrollment of over 500 students in 1945. Schedules in every department have been filled completely and there has been a waiting list throughout the year.

Invitations have just been sent out for the anniversary dinner to be held at the Newton Y.M.C.A. on April fifth. This event will mark the thirty-fifth milestone, but more especially it will do honor to Miss Fyffe, its esteemed founder and beloved director for more than thirty years.

Because of fire laws and other regulations, the seating capacity at the "Y" is limited and so it is necessary to announce at this time that reservations will be made at the music school office in the order in which they are received.

At a meeting of the mothers' auxiliary committee held at the Clafin Headquarters on Friday morning, March 8, Mrs. George H. Fernald, president of the Board of Trustees, presented Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the anniversary dinner committee to the group. Mrs. Hay outlined complete plans for the coming event and asked mothers present to serve as ushers at the reception and as hostesses at the dinner on April fifth. Members of the board and faculty joined Mrs. Hay in serving coffee at the social period following the meeting. Among those present were Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. Franklin Haven, Mrs. Charles W. Abbott, Mrs. Herbert Wagner, Mrs. Frederick Holmes, Mrs. Raymond Lamiet, Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Harold Hood, Mrs. Walter Sears, Mrs. William O'Donnell, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. Joseph M. ## Fire Chief Cautions Householders On Fire Prevention and Safety

With the present day overcrowded homes and the approach of spring cleaning, Chief John Keating of the Newton Fire Department in an interview with a Graphic reporter, cautioned householders to observe fire prevention and safety.

"The basic rules of fire prevention are few and simple," he asserted, "yet householders are often forgetful in their observance to safeguard their homes."

Such cautions as the accumulation of trash and papers, spontaneous ignitions, careless disposal of smoking matter, defective electrical wiring, and storage of inflammables were pointed out as possible hazards.

Whereas tenement houses are inspected by the fire department, the chief stated that it is the responsibility of the individual householders to make careful scrutiny of their own waste and inflammable materials in attics and cellars. All paints, lacquers, oils, and waxes should be placed in covered metal containers and should be kept away from furnaces, stoves and other heating appliances, he added.

Many fires in homes are caused by carelessly leaving burning cigarettes lying around on stuffed furniture. Kapok in mattresses is highly inflammable.

Further cautions mentioned were: having approved electrical appliances; inspection of wiring, defective wiring underneath rugs; overfusing meters (15 amperes fuses suitable for ordinary usage). The chief also suggested that householders should be more than careful in cleaning out chimneys, and burning leaves or trash in backyards. (Permits are needed for the latter.)

Block, Pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Newtons and a fellow member of the Newton Lions Club was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Lions Club at which President Asa Blakeslee presided. Mr. Block speaking on Freedom's Holy Light in a most stirring and forceful way brought out that the last war was fought for the Four Freedoms, that the previous World War also had Freedom, "Freedom of Democracy" as our goal and that even in Abraham Lincoln's time the Civil War was a fight for freedom. This latter fact, he said, as we all well knew, was very much in Lincoln's mind.

Referring to Lincoln he spoke of him as one of the greatest champions of Freedom since Jesus Christ. Rev. Block said in part that the need of the world today is the true understanding of freedom and the application of it to men everywhere, for only as we understand and appreciate freedom can we possess it and share it. Freedom, he stated, was a fundamental God-given right for ourselves and with it we should also safeguard the rights of others.

The Club had an excellent attendance of members and a welcome guest, Ensign Robert Morgan, U.S.N., the son of Lion Ray Morgan.

Do your family a favor!

Let YOUR first "post-war project" be a modern ELECTRIC Range

All during the war, you planned hopefully for the time when you could improve the kitchen equipment in your home. Now that time is drawing near . . . so—let a fine, new, modern Electric range be your first "post-war project." It will bring you more genuine satisfaction, more real convenience, (yes—and more delicious meals!) than you ever thought possible.

A modern Electric range will give you greater nutrition and more flavor from the food you buy, for Electric cooking preserves precious vitamins and natural food juices.

Besides, electric cooking is clean, because it's sootless. Pans stay bright . . . walls, windows, curtains stay clean.

You enjoy added leisure too because automatic timing devices make it possible for your electric range to cook a perfect meal in your absence.

Then—add electric cooking's economy to these advantages and you'll see why it will pay you well to investigate the best possible "post-war project" for your family—a modern ELECTRIC range!

There's an electrical future ahead . . . and BOSTON EDISON wants to help you make the most of it

Eire Players At Our Lady's Newton, March 17

The Eire Players will present at Our Lady's High School Auditorium next Sunday evening, March 17, at 8 p.m., "The New Gosssoon" under the direction of Mr. John McGrail. The leading role played by Mr. Michael Ahern, a well-known baritone and radio singer, is the part of "Rab-it Hamill," one of the outstanding comic characters of the present day Irish Theatre. The scene is to take place in the kitchen of Mrs. Carey's farm house in a small town in Ireland. The stage is being set up under the direction of Mrs. James McElwee.

In 1937 many Bostonians were happy to learn that a course in Irish history was to be given in one of the evening colleges in which many men and women both in the business and teaching fields enrolled. The course was most successful, but it only whetted their appetites for more and the next summer the class sailed on a six-weeks tour of Ireland now known as Eire. They were thrilled at the sights they saw — the very things about which they studied so intently.

On the return voyage it was agreed to organize the Eire Society of Boston which now has over 800 members. The Society conducts a series of Sunday afternoon lectures during the fall, winter and spring. The Dramatic Group of this Society has produced such fine Irish plays as "Professor Tim" and the most recent "The New Gosssoon," which was originally played in the famous Albery Theatre of Dublin.

There will also be a musical entertainment by The Barbara E. Ryan Trio of Newton, Mary L. Scipione, Violin, Clare Ryan, Cello and Barbara E. Ryan, Pianist.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this Sunday evening performance.

Spring Lawn Care

Mr. Clapper of the Clapper Company reports their phones are ringing all day long at this season with urgent calls for lawn seed, fertilizer and lawn rollers. He wishes through the columns of this paper to urge folks to not be in too much of a hurry to get onto that lawn. Spring is not here yet and much damage can be done if work is started too soon.

These hints might be worth your reading.

LIME—The average lawn, if it is quite well stocked with Kentucky Bluegrass, Annual Bluegrass and clover should be limed on the average of once every three years. This should be done just before the freezing in the fall or just before the thawing in the spring. Spread at rate averaging 40 to 75 lbs. per 1000 square feet of lawn. (40x25 feet). If land lime is used reduce the rate one-third.

ROLLING—Wait until the frost is out of the ground and it has dried from the wet or soggy condition to where it is just moist. Do not use too much weight. If a water weight roller is used keep the water level below ¾ full. Roll once not more. Too much rolling will seal the pores and suffocate the grass roots. They require air as well as water to live.

FERTILIZER—Organic, such as Milorganite, may be applied even when there is a light cover of snow. In fact you can see just how much you put on and insure even coverage. Chemical or mixed fertilizers should not be applied until growth has actually started and no additional freezes will occur. Warning—if you stimulate your grass at this (dry) season with a chemical fertilizer and a freeze hits it after growth is started you might get a bad kill and set the lawn back several weeks. No danger from organics, as they will not break down until moisture and heat are present.

SEED—Grass seed should not be applied while the ground is wet, soggy and cold. It will rot rather than germinate. If you have some bare spots which must be covered now then plant common ryegrass only as it will germinate at a temperature of 60 degrees. For regular seed wait until perhaps April 15th or most of your seed will be wasted. Seed, that is high quality seed, is scarce and high in price this year.

We never used to be able to find Grandma's glasses but now she leaves them right where she empties them.

Make sure you get 1945 crop of seeds and look at the label for high percentage of germination and purity. Cheap seed contains chaff, old seeds and weeds.

So if a good lawn is desired proceed with caution and don't rush the season. It is well to buy your supplies and have them on hand but better keep them in the garage than waste them on cold soil.

like ourselves, had achieved supremacy with a system of free enterprise, and yet in a free election, this summer, it voted overwhelmingly in favor of socialism. We, in this country, have achieved our great position through the efficiency of private enterprise. It has carried us safely through war and peace. Unless the men and women of this country are willing to do their part in preserving them, our military victory will be a hollow one."

The speaker was introduced by Rev. John H. Quinlan. A set of books entitled "The Archdiocese of Boston" was presented to Mr. Kennedy by the pastor, Rev. Michael E. Doherty.

Francis X. Murphy, president of Our Lady's Holy Name Society, opened the meeting and Vice President Pierce J. Haley was master of ceremonies. A musical program was presented by the Ryan trio, Miss Claire Ryan, cellist, Miss Barbara Ryan, pianist and Mrs. Arthur Scipione, violinist.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From

The Newton League of Women Voters

SUMMONS TO ACTION: WRITE NOW

The National Office of the League of Women Voters has sent out three calls to action, urging all members to write to their congressional senators and representatives on the matters the League regards as the most important current issues.

The League stand on specific measures is determined under a program of basic principles adopted by the vote of the majority of its members. These three current measures, which League members are asked to urge their Congressmen to support, are as follows:

An atomic energy control measure which would establish a federal civilian control commission to supervise all research and application of atomic energy. The League holds that such supervision must be federal in scope because the interests involved are nationwide, that the commission should be civilian because the military use of such energy is only one of what will doubtless ultimately be many uses and also because the military services, being charged with grave responsibilities for security, might tend to over-restriction and domination lest they should fail in their special obligations. Therefore, thinks the League, a civilian commission can oversee the whole field with broader grasp and more equitable judgment.

The second matter on which the League seeks the supporting action of its members, is the British loan, H. Res. 311 and S. Res. 138. The following points are held noteworthy: While the loan is made to the British and they guarantee its repayment, it will open to trade with us, not only the United Kingdom, but also the wide areas of the world (in Asia, and Africa) where currencies are tied to the British pound and which will have to trade only with Britain if dollars are not made available to them. An American loan is the only feasible source of such dollars; and the willingness of the Administration to make such a large loan to Great Britain instead of referring her, with others, to the international bank, is due to the need of such a sizable sum to match the extent of the area involved. Furthermore, the trade of this area will then be opened on the terms for which the U. S. stands—as few barriers as possible. Also, the agreement engages the support of Britain for an international trade organization, which should ultimately insure the harmonious development of worldwide commerce.

The third League call is in support of the extension of price control. The League realizes that only volume of production, creating a vast stock of goods, is the final answer to the control of inflation; but, while production is getting under way and until it can meet demand, price controls are necessary. No one denies that O.P.A. has made mistakes, but, says the League, that does not invalidate the need for the system. Faulty details can be adjusted; general inflation could not be checked if the ceiling were off. If there were no temporary controls, the sky would be the limit on prices while goods are scarce, and the temptation would be great to keep them scarce.

Letters should be addressed to Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.; Senator David I. Walsh, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.; The Honorable Christian Herter, House Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Question Period Indicates Interest

The merits of Plan E, the council-manager form of city government and its astounding accomplishments in the city of Cambridge were expounded Wednesday night by George A. McLaughlin, one of the original proponents of Plan E in Cambridge and president of the Cambridge Civic League, to a joint dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the service clubs of Newton, the Lions, Kiwanis, and Rotary. ### "Plan E"

That Newton Voters are interested in the council-manager form of city government under Plan E was evidenced by the attendance of nearly 400 citizens who gathered at the Normandie Room to hear the plan outlined and explained by Geo. E. McLaughlin, President of the Cambridge Civic Association.

One fact which puzzled many is that so few cities have adopted and are at present being run under the council-manager form of government. The fact is however that more than 500 cities have some variation of this form many of which do not include proportional representation voting, which according to the Massachusetts State charter is Plan E in this state but merely city management in others.

The "Plan" certainly deserves serious consideration. Now that the issue has been thoroughly explained to a cross section of Newton voters and to our readers elsewhere in this issue, the Graphic will be glad to publish letters from residents of Newton expressing their opinions for or against the adoption of Plan E in Newton.

Another Third Party

My first impression of ram-bunctious Harold L. Ickes' activities in connection with the so-called Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions was that another third party was in the offing. To be sure, the recently deposed Secretary of the Interior made it clear that no such thought was in his mind at the moment. However, it occurs to me that if this new organization should prove an outstanding success, it might be a great temptation to expand it.

Now, what lies behind this new movement? There are two chief points of interest. First, Mr. Ickes seeks to tie in to this new group as many as possible of the old Franklin D. Roosevelt following. He seems to be satisfied that the President is getting nowhere fast in his attempt to translate F.D.R.'s domestic policies and ideas into law. How much this is due to President Truman's lack of ardor for a number of his predecessor's policies and how much is due to the manner in which he has been hamstrung by the coalition of Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans in Congress is difficult to determine. The result is the same, whatever the cause, and the old Roosevelt crowd is getting fed up. They propose to start something constructive and see if it is not possible to enact into law a minimum wage program, a peace-time military training program and a few other key measures dealing with full employment, adequate housing, especially for world war veterans, etc.

The second interesting point is this. ALL Congressmen, regardless of party, will be watched with a keen eye and all might be classed as obstructionists or who are far too conservative and lacking in vision, both in foreign and in domestic affairs, will find themselves the targets of this new Independent Citizens Committee in the fall elections and, of course, in the national presidential election in 1948. It is assumed that quite a few candidates will be placed in the field. They will have to be aggressive and progressive. That is going to make the going hard for Republicans like Senator Taft of Ohio, a typical Old Guardsman, and also for Democrats like Bilbo, Rankin and a good many other men of higher calibre, such as Byrd of Virginia.

Finally, will it not be a treat to watch the doings of our old friend Jimmie Roosevelt, who is the national director of the new organization? Jimmie recently "sounded-off" in connection with the two big Churchill speeches. He described them as being harmful to world peace. It is barely possible that he has something there. In any event, watch Jimmie closely.

New G.O.P. Chairman

Archie Giroux of Lexington has taken over the leadership of the Republican State Committee from hard-working George Rowell of Cambridge. There is nothing unusual about this change. Very few, if any, chairmen have served as long as Rowell, who has tried several times to resign. It is unfortunate that a few pugnacious

Republicans like former Governor's Counsellor Schuster should have taken it upon themselves to stir up a lot of excitement and give the general public the impression that the state GOP was split wide open. As a matter of fact, there have been persistent rumors abroad that Schuster himself was looking for this job. However, he seems to lack the type of temperament necessary for this arduous post. Then, too, this same gentleman placed himself in the middle a few years ago when he took up the cudgels for the popular Needham Representative, Leslie B. Cutler, and tried hard to win a place for her on the G.O.P. National Committee.

Giroux has many excellent qualifications, including a wide acquaintance, a fine war record, considerable business ability, (he has served as President of the Boston Stock Exchange) and unusual ability to mix and mingle with all types of people. He won out over a large and impressive field of contestants for the position of Middlesex County Commissioner. That was prior to world war two. His countless friends will wish him good-luck, especially in the coming fall elections. Incidentally, our best wishes go to the retiring chairman, George B. Rowell, who has worked unusually hard at a thankless task.

La Guardia "Takes the Air"

The former New York Mayor, better known as "The Little Flower," is providing some very interesting programs on Sunday evening. Last Sunday La Guardia took a crack at the leading GOP contenders for the Presidential nomination in 1948. He mentioned Stassen, Bricker, Vandenberg, Taft and Saltonstall, as I recall it. There may have been one or two others of lesser importance. His complaint was that the Republican party had been very influential in knifing the veterans housing program. These veterans will not soon forget what the GOP leaders in Congress did. When 1948 rolls around, the veterans may punish the GOP. Maybe they would be justified, too.

The Child Labor Amendment was proposed by Congress in 1924. Inasmuch as our Constitution provides that three-fourths of the forty-eight states must ratify all amendments, and inasmuch as only twenty-six states have so far ratified, this vital matter is on the shelf. ### LETTER BOX

Dear Editor:

Today when workmen are so hard to obtain I think it is a shame to have boys between the ages of 13 and 18 going around Newton destroying stone walls, breaking windows in garages and vacant houses. In Newton it seems to me or the Newtons, Newton, Newtonville, Newton Centre and Waban this seems to be a pastime for youths after dusk. It causes expense to homeowners and taxpayers. It is getting worse than the slums where the poor have respect for one another; even our servants say the young rich people are worse than the poor. I think your paper should write an article on this for parents to see and check on this sort of destruction of property. Has it come to such a state that we will have to stand guard at night to protect our homes and property from idle, disorderly youths. What do YOU, Mr. Editor, think of it. I would and my neighbors also, would like to get your reaction.

A Reader.

Rev. S. M. Freeland, formerly pastor of the Eliot church, Newton, has accepted a call to a church in San Francisco.

There are quite a number of cases of typhoid and malaria in the town, and unless the sewerage question is acted upon soon by our city officials there will be, without doubt, many more. Newton Centre being on high land should be free of these troubles, but while the town is without a proper sewerage we do not see what else we can expect.

The growing pressure of his private practice has forced Dr. Charles F. Painter of Farlow road, Newton to resign as dean of the Tufts Medical School, an office he has held since September, 1913. He will continue as a member of the faculty, retaining his title of professor of orthopedic surgery.

It is estimated that by the last day in June there will be over 500 Boy Scouts under the Norumbega Council of Newton.

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

In an interview granted to this reporter, Miss Gertrude E. Myles, Head of the French Department of Newton High School, announced that her department had started a project to send food, clothing, and comforts to needy French children overseas. They hope to sponsor eight needy youths of high school age whose names were secured through the Society for French Relief, of Newbury street, Boston. The Department plans to send to each two ten-pound boxes per month for a period of one year. Through this effort to aid French youth the American youth will receive lessons in international relations. What better way to make friends? The project is being carried on after school by the students and their teachers.

One of the many interested students went into a shoe repair store to purchase some leather soles for one of the overseas boxes. Upon hearing the story of the project the cobbler donated a pair of soles, a pair of heels, and six pairs of shoe laces. One parent left a three-pound can of the scarce Crisco in the main office of the High School for the project.

When Miss Gertrude Myles was asked by your reporter why the students were doing this for perfect strangers, she replied, "It is only natural that French Departments in schools and colleges of this country be extremely interested in the youth of France and in present day conditions in France. We are friends of France. We shall try to send items that are needed during the different seasons of the year."

The contents of a typical box will be: 1 box spam, 1 box sardines, 1 lb. rice, 1 box macaroni, 1 box figs or dates, 2 cans of soup, 2 boxes pudding, some hard candies, 1 can cocoa, 1 can milk, 1 can baked beans, 2 bars of soap, 1 face cloth, 1 tooth brush, 1 tube of tooth paste, a few pencils, a notebook, a pad of paper.

A new idea which has developed into a business was started a few weeks ago by a veteran who is quite well known to all "teen age" students in this city. This new business proves that a veteran who wants to get ahead in this city can. George DiMatteo, Commander of American Legion Post 141 realized that Newton being a fairly large city with all types of business men should have a 24-hour telephone answering service. He also had the foresight to realize that a professional listing and advertising service in the same office would not only aid the merchants of Newton but also the public at the same time. The reason that I am printing this story is simply to prove that a veteran does not need to loaf and get his $20 a week for 52 weeks and then gripe that no one will give him a chance. So veterans of World War II, get on the ball and show the public the same way that George DiMatteo has that a veteran can get ahead on his own without any help from the public. Let's cut out the griping and do something about it. You did a good job in the armed services and I know that you can do a better job as a civilian.

Arthur Sweatt, N.H.S. graduate, is now stationed at Keesler Field, Mississippi.

called to order by President Harold R. Dolby, at 8 p.m.

Committees were heard on various subjects and Mrs. Wyman reported on the activities of the Newton PTA Council.

Miss Alice Payne, noted Home Economics expert from the Boston Consolidated Gas Co., spoke on the interesting subject, "The Eyes Have It." In this speech she stressed the importance of making food served to children as appealing as possible. "Food should not only taste good but should look appetizing," she urged.

A Music Night will be held at the Warren Junior High School on May 24th with the school orchestra, glee club and band participating in the program. Profits of that evening will be used to build a fund which will be used to outfit the orchestra, glee club and band. The Warren Junior High P.T.A. will be cosponsors of this music program.

Following the meeting refreshments were served during the social hour.

Barbara Simons in "Ladies in Retirement"

Miss Barbara Simons, 359 Otis street, West Newton, was warmly praised by critics for her performance in the William and Mary Theatre's production of "Ladies in Retirement" which was presented here on March 13 and 14.

She attended Newton High School where she took an active part in drama, art, and the Glee Club.

Miss Simons, a sophomore at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, has appeared in several other plays on the College stage.

Dining With Jane and Bill

THESE THREE LOAVES of bread—one made from the familiar 70 per cent extraction flour (center) and two from the new 80 per cent extraction flour—weigh exactly the same. The higher density flour gives a somewhat more compact loaf with a better quality protein content, and therefore higher food value, than the 70 per cent extraction flour.

U. S. D. A. Photograph by Forsythe

Bill—Do you know anything about this new flour and bread that the President ordered? It is a means to relieve the hunger and suffering of the world I suppose. Do you know what it is going to be like? Had we better stock up on some of the regular white flour?

Jane—Don't be silly, Bill, I hate hoarders, and besides, this new flour and bread will not be much different from the flour we are already used to. It is only slightly creamier in color and has a bit more of a wheaty flavor.

Bill—The papers have said something about it being an 80 per cent extraction flour. I suppose you know what that means.

Jane—Well, yes. That means that from each 100 pounds of wheat, the miller must get at least 80 pounds of flour instead of 72 pounds of flour he used to get. I read that this means a saving of 27 million bushels of wheat for shipment to hungry nations. Great Britain is now using an 85 per cent extraction flour and France, a 90 per cent extraction.

Bill—Does that mean that we don't need to have enriched white flour and bread any longer? Is that 80 per cent extraction flour going to take its place?

Jane—I was talking with one of the nutritionists from the Nutrition Center the other day about that. She was at one of our PTA meetings, and she said that we should still sponsor the enrichment of bread and flour, for this new flour will not take its place. Even if it is an 80 per cent extraction flour, it does not furnish us with all the minerals and vitamins found in the whole grain product.

The Newton League of Women Voters

Most of us are so harassed by the amount of printed matter we receive in our daily mail that a whole advertising psychology has been built around the opening sentence. Faced with a choice between a serious lecture on a vital issue and a movie, many people, young or old, tired or semi-tired, will choose that which serves as a relaxation. Where, then, can we look for guidance on questions of the day? Your favorite newspaper will often disagree editorially with its columnists—the people whose opinions you respect may be at variance because of geographical and financial pressures or personal biases. And finally, you could read that waste-basket literature we referred to in the beginning.

A strong right arm of the League of Women Voters is its publications department which issues information available to the public, ranging from fliers on local affairs to tiny booklets on Dumbarton Oaks. They are all phrased in uncomplicated language and are priced at a few cents per copy. So inclusive are its facts and so expertly are they handled that its material has been used as a basis for the Bretton Woods agreement, and its pamphlets are frequently referred to by our Congressmen. Many too, are in standard use in adult education and, in addition, find their way into the Junior and Senior high school classes for reference work. Mrs. Shuffer, Dec. 0589, is in charge of Publications for the Newton League of Women Voters.

BITS OF BLARNEY:

You didn't have to be a relative of the pupils of the Saint Bernard School in West Newton which produced the musical comedy "Bits of Blarney" for its annual St. Patrick's Day celebration, to enjoy their performances last Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Newton Catholic Club. The students ranging from the first to the twelfth grades were so excellent in speech, in music, in taking directions, in stage movements and in performance that you would have loved and cheered them anyway. It's shows like this which bring the small theatre productions close to the family heart and dear to the critic's eye.

Everything was in taste, and in order for this four day showing, celebrating St. Patrick's Day. The costumes were most befitting and the scenery could have brought any Irishman back into the land of Eire. The school put on a show of shows in two parts, the first acted by girls of the high school and the second by children of the lower grades.

Mary Elizabeth Manning as Peggy, stole the show with her "Boy," "Howdy Do," "Sweetheart of Mine" and "Killarney" brought down the house with applause. This redheaded senior sings well enough, yet needs a little more training in speech but she certainly has possibilities professionally, if she ever chooses. Frances Conney playing Mike O'Noole did an admirable job as the bent-over caretaker. Her accent and speech was splendid. Jane Dobens as Patrick handled herself very well singing "Bits of Blarney" and Barbara Conney had a good voice singing the hit song in duet with Mary Elizabeth "If You're Heart's Broken Let Me Fix It Up For You," and another cute number "Patrick Whom Are You Looking For."

The chorus was made up of pretty colleens, and their timing and harmonizing was noticeable and outstanding. Part one was an enjoyable show. I was whistling the tunes after the show was over and as critics say, that's a healthy sign a Broadway musical will go over. However, this was amateur and there's no hope of seeing or hearing "Bits of Blarney" again unless some Newton adult theatre group might change the story and retain the songs.

Two dance numbers and one solo won acclaim in the Part One show. "Rakes of Mallon" (reel) by Grade VII boys and girls was funny and cute but even funnier and cuter was "Jaunting Down to Kerry" by Grade II boys and girls. I think the children got more kick out of playing the parts than did the audience in laughing at their antics. Hazel Riley tapping to "Paddy McGinty" was lovely and singularly thrilling on the taps.

Other Selections

As for Part Two called "Bits of Color in the Park" and "In Retreat—Big Brother Joe" was certainly professional calibre. I believe the numbers "Big Brother Jimmy," "Rosie O'Reilly" and "United Nations Group," (Grade III girls) would make any big production. And Jimmy Mice-lotta, as the singing Marine and star of the numbers was my choice as the headliner of the entire evening. He's big time even now. He reminded me of Bobbie Breen at the age of 10 yet Jimmie seems to be one better with his superb dancing and tapping steps.

In Retreat—a beautiful bedtime number with children from the first grades was the funniest and yet most darling of all the scenes in the show. I can't yet get over the way the children learned their parts and acted and sang so well.

I could go on and on praising the musical comedy but with the wonderful cast of children and the hit music in it, that's how much I (and I'm positive the audience) enjoyed the show. Rev. John J. Crane, pastor of St. Bernard's, should be very proud of his children. Father Sullivan and Mr. Thomas Sheridan handled the backstage proceedings very capably.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

I've never seen or heard the Highland Glee Club in any of its eighty-four concerts throughout its forty seasons until last Tuesday evening at Newton High School, and believe me, I'm quite positive I'll never want to miss another of its semi-annual shows. Before an overflow audience of 200, Ralph MacLean directed a well-harmonizing group of all male chorists; Alan Booth returned to his alma mater as guest artist pianist, and members of the Glee Club put on a half-time comedy skit with three "barber shop" quartets, judges, audience participation et al. That was the combination of an evening of solid entertainment which would have drawn throngs and throngs of music lovers to any Boston playhouse if the sponsors wanted to do so. For home town production it was at its best.

The chorus was in excellent perfection especially in three numbers: "In Piccadilly," a soft, sweet and comforting poem about the beauty of night, of gardens, of grass, and of blossoms and buds of ivory; "Waters Ripple and Flow," the Czechoslovak Folk song arranged by Slovaks Taylor, a beautiful, thrilling and touching song about a missing love "dearest lover come back; and the vigil I keep into the bits of sadness; and the famed and popular "Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tannhauser (Richard Wagner) whose melody and song was so familiar that the audience was even humming it softly.

Part Two

Another selection which the Glee Club specialized in and put over in good voice and in splendid chorus was "Secrets" a college song dedicated to former past president William P. Underhill, which was sung so softly you could actually feel the whispers. It was indeed a lovely choice. The finale was in different taste, and I'd say in good taste, for the close of the show. It was another familiar number "The Finale" from "The Gondoliers" a South American, fast tempo number which brought even more joy into the evening. A previous number during the first part of the show was met with great delight... that was the old and still popular "Casey Jones."

Alan Booth a graduate of Newton High, 1942, and now in his last year at Oberlin College, returned to the stage he had gazed upon so often at high school shows never dreaming he would someday be a guest artist there also, and proved to be an agreeable and appreciative audience that the talented young Negro pianist has developed musical ability and feeling and will go far in this field as a concert pianist.

He chose two different and difficult numbers from Beethoven and Chopin, but his profound understanding and interpretation of the passages and his steady, cool and collected, slow and then hurried movements on the keys gave depth, color and brilliance to his selections. His "Sonata Opus 101"—Beethoven—is a mixture of the great composer's somber messages. The solemnity, agony, and touching sadness was noticeable in the deft playing of the sonata. There was great dramatic feeling in the playing of the three movements in the Sonata which has that restless sadness and yet some outward gaiety in the end.

As for Chopin, Mr. Booth chose "Berceuse" and the "Ballade Opus 23" two of the unfamiliar, comparable to those which have made such a hit with the modern musical audience. However, expressions and temper, softness and storm were superbly displayed by the young artist. Chopin's music is a little lighter and happier and the pianist did well in choosing his selections.

As for the comedy, three "barber shop" quartets competed before three comic judges and an audience, singing and rollicking Gay Nineties selections. The team of Joseph E. McKenney, Kenneth D. Cox, Irving W. Middleton and Charles E. Diehm as the four old Yale alumni who had never won a contest and were still trying, singing and clowning in their funny costumes to "In the Gloaming" and "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" were the winners. This part of the show was indeed novel.

James Gray was the accompanist at the piano for the Glee Club chorus. The ushers were: Mrs. Carl C. Peterson, Mrs. A. Lincoln Alvord, Mrs. W. Clifford Harvey, Mrs. Nelson I. Crowther, Mrs. Allen H. Hakanson and Mrs. Paul W. Thayer.

Newton Week a Tremendous Success

Brattle Hall Theatre at Harvard Square was the host to hundreds of Newton residents last week, as many prominent Newton families visited the only stock company now playing in America.

Last week was designated as "Newton Week" and seats were set aside for prominent Newton theatregoers to visit this unique theatre, where for 75 solid weeks, this distinguished acting company has been playing to capacity audiences each night.

So successful was "Newton Week" at Brattle Hall, with hundreds unable to secure seats, that the management is extending the courtesy over to another week. Next week, too, is "Newton Week" at Brattle Hall in Cambridge, and many families who were unable to secure admittance last week are invited to see the famous play being presented on the stage next week.

The Boston Stock Company has secured for next week's offering, the comedy that had the 4th longest run in the history of the American theatre "Peg O' My Heart." This delightful comedy, which has been played more than 20,000 times in America, will be the Boston Stock Company's 74th consecutive play.

Featured in the distinguished acting company next week are Marty O'Brien, popular leading woman, Rex King, character actor, Patricia Harvey, New York actress, Peter Temple, Bill Story, Bob Moore, Frank Cassidy, Joan Evans, Bob Markley and others. Dog lovers will also be interested in the two thoroughbreds that are used in the play.

Because the company sells out every night in the week, Newton residents are requested to reserve seats ahead by phone.

soring Membership Committee and his staff did an excellent job in drawing such an enthusiastic and over-capacity crowd. At the completion of the show it looked as if the audience was flocking out of a Carnegie Hall showing. But then I wouldn't put it past the Highland Glee Club to sing there some day. They are really "that good." The popular young director and conductor Robert Shaw, and his Choral Collegiate, can find much talent here in the Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc.

In and Around
Boston

"What's Cookin'!"—As we figured, "The Song of Bernadette" closes Saturday at the Wilbur. The stage version of Franz Werfel's great novel received favorable reviews, yet without name stars patrons didn't think the show could be that good... The "Voice of the Turtle" reached its 100 mark last week at the Plymouth. One cooked hot, the other cold... Would be wise for Newton Clubs to buy theatre party seats (discount 50 per cent) to "Henry V" the American premiere beginning April 3 at the Esquire Theatre. Expectations for sales will reach a new high for the theatre. "Henry V" is produced, directed and played by Laurence Olivier. The film is a departure in the production of a Shakespearean play, and in many ways it is a photographed play of the "Old Vic" players, shifting to motion picture technique whenever the scenes demanded by William Shakespeare are of too vast a size and importance to be adequately portrayed in a playhouse. The production begins with a performance of the play in the old Globe Theatre with all the humor and entertainment possibilities which made the famous English playhouse with its superimposed stages permitted. As we predicted "The Last Chance" preview at the Exeter Theatre was a hit—and Boston movie goers are still raving about "The Lost Weekend," "Leave her to Heaven" and "Spellbound." Watch for these films at your neighborhood movie houses...

Leonard Bernstein, the talented young composer, pianist and conductor is guest conductor for the Boston Symphony this Saturday evening.

Still burning!—and that's the hurried rush to buy seats for the Jose and Amparo (his sister) Tumbis concert to be given at Symphony Hall Tuesday evening April 2. They've packed 'em in all over during their nation wide tour and Boston will be no exception.

Itemizing!—Alexander Brailovsky, pianist, will play an all Chopin concert in Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, April 14—Fritz Busch one of the greatest contemporary conductors of German Opera will raise the baton to "Tannhauser" on Thursday evening April 4 at the Boston Opera House to open its twelfth annual Metropolitan season—Music enthusiasts can hear the New England Conservatory Orchestra, conducted by Malcolm Holmes in its next concert at Jordan Hall Wednesday evening, March 27, and the public is invited free—Don't forget Woody Herman at Symphony Hall, March 31. Woody features "Ebony Concerto" composed for him by Igor Stravinsky—For the past three weeks we've mentioned "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" to appear at the Tributary Children's Theatre, New England Mutual Hall March 23 and 30. It's a positive must for the children—"Judy O'Connor" starring Don DeFore and Ann Sergeant opens Tuesday March 26 at the Copley. Newton Composer
Wins Gershwin Award
And $1000 Prize

Harold Shapero, 25, son of Mrs. Jessie Shapero of 56 Clinton Place, Newton Centre received the George Gershwin Memorial Award of $1000, as winner of the annual Gershwin Foundation contest, last Saturday at Carnegie Hall where Leonard Bernstein famed pianist, conductor and composer led the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra as guest conductor playing Shapero's winning composition "Serenade in D" for strings.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Rose Gershwin, mother of the late composer. Shapero was victor over 58 entries in the contest sponsored by the B'Nai B'rith Victory Lodge.

Harold graduated from Newton High in 1937. At high school he was primarily a jazz pianist but when he later went to the Malkin Conservatory of Music and then to Harvard his interests changed mostly to his friend-familiar and outstanding tutors as Nicholas Slonimsky, Ernest Krenkel, Walter Piston, Igor Stravinsky, Paul Hindemith and Aron Copland. He won several prizes while at Harvard for his excellence in instrumental music and then in June 1941 he became the recipient of a $1000 prize for winning the "Prix de Rome" for musical composition on his work the "Nine Minute Overture" which was awarded by the American Academy in Rome.

fame returns to the stage after a long layoff and Jessie Royce Landis, one of Broadway's leading ladies star in this production. Coburn is one of my favorites and Miss Landis regardless what she's in is tops. —Alexander Ince, Messrs. Shubert and Albert de Courville produce Louis Bromfield and Lalo Vadney's new comedy "West of the Moon" opening April 1 at the Wilbur. That's some odds are high they don't fail, but yet the cast hasn't the classy name stars and that's not good—"Annie Get Your Gun" starring Ethel Merman begins April 2 at the Shubert. Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, wrote the score and enuf said. It's destined for another New York musical sensation.

Newton in the Field
of Sports

Art Weinstock and Bob Scanlon, hoop stars of the past season's Huston five, were elected co-captains of the basketball team after the season was completed, when it made no difference nor rated the just distinction of the title. We can only suggest that Newton corrects this policy and appoints a leader from this season's squad (a veteran hoopster) to carry the title next year as captain for the complete schedule. From his dandy records and honors won, Rod Jennings is certainly the man to deserve the distinction but why not now—instead of having him go through another season to prove himself? We're still with Art Ballou and other sports fans who favor a Waltham-Newton baseball league. Publicity, campaigns, petitions and the like will carry such a league over the top. Between the two cities ball parks are numerous and well kept; there should be heavy crowds, good brand of ball, and a keener interest in the game.

The Newton YMCA hoopers went in and out of the Two-State YMCA Basketball Championships, the quarter rounds held at its home court last Saturday afternoon and night. The Coach Gus Anderson five were not just hot enough to hand Lynn a second licking (they beat them previously in regular season play). Lynn with Spris, Nester, Landry and Brown found their targets too regularly, to win decisively 52-44. Urban Deagle scored 16 points for the Newtonites but Paul Holmes and Bill Kearns were off in the netting department. Never saw better passing, thought, by that boy Holmes!

Albemarle Golf Club opened Saturday and preparations are already in order for the annual New England Spring Junior Tournament. Jack Sheehan heads the club as manager and professional... Talking about golf, the Charles River Country Club is the site for the 37th State Amateur Championships to be held July 9-13. This is the 25th anniversary for the River club and it was presented a handsome silver anniversary gift by the Massachusetts Golf Association last week... Second Congregational upset favored Elliot Congregational in the World Series finals of the Church League last Friday at the "Y" 36-34. Norman Furush with 10 points and Dick Fernald with 11 were the pacers for the winners. Fernald's one-handed shot with but 40 seconds to go was the clincher. Second received the Walter MacLennan trophy at the annual Sports Night dinner held Thursday night at Temple Emanuel—Coach C. Evan Johnson, Newton High's hockey mentor loses 12 players but still have 13 vets to boost his hockey squad next season.

Wisconsin's Milk Production According to official figures the state of Wisconsin has 2,577,000 dairy cows. Statistics disclose that there are about 170,000 dairy farmers in the state and that the average dairy herd is from 10 to 15 cows.

Newton High
Prepares for Baseball Season

Good weather, a large turnout of approximately 150 candidates and several veterans from last year's Newton High baseball team brought forth smiles from Coach Jeff Jones in the first diamond call of the new season last week and brought visions of a prosperous campaign. Last year the Orange and Black finished second in the Suburban League. The year before, 1944, the Newtonites won the title, the Eastern and State championships.

Starting out like any major league ball club Coach JJ intends to work the boys slowly and surely weeding out the good and bad at the Skate House shack until he can make out at least two complete teams, favorable utilities and a dependable mound staff. Jeff Jones is a scout for the Boston Braves and is one of the most highly regarded schoolboy mentors in the circuit. This makes his 19th year at the helm of Newton high nines.

Six lettermen have returned from last year's squad. The middle area will be protected again by the basketball forward wall combinations George Patterson and Bob Scanlon, George at second and Bob at short. Henry Fitzpatrick expects to hold down an outfield berth. Art Weinstock another hoopster of the past season should have no trouble crouching behind the plate; he's been at it the three seasons regularly, and Richard Preble varsity righthander intends to have a much better win and loss record as moundman.

New twirlers taking up varsity duties this year will be Bob Todd, righty, John Cousens, southpaw and Jim Keefe another righty plus a flock of Junior High prospects coming up for their first big flings. Todd was the Intermediate regular, Cousens and Keefe did Jayvee pitching.

Bill Whitney, intermediates and Killer Kain, Jayvee will battle for the sub-receiving job. Eddie Collins and Bob MacConnell will compete for the initial sack. Eddie was the left handed first baseman on the Ints last season and Bob played the bag for the JV's. Loutfi Gayzagian heads the long list of outfield candidates.

Noted Guests at Newton Centre Woman's Club Celebrity Breakfast

Directed by Mrs. Francis J. Flagg who planned with such overwhelming success for the first Celebrity Breakfast of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, the second breakfast on Friday, March 29, 1946, at the Clubhouse, is already being eagerly awaited by old and new subscribers. Mrs. Flagg is Chairman of the Literature Committee of the Club and a Director of the Boston Authors Club.

Among the guests of honor are: Hon. Paul M. Goddard, Mayor of Newton; Prince and Princess Wladislaw Sapieha of Lwow, Poland. The Princess, who is Hungarian by birth, is noted for her ability to interpret the Hungarian gypsy melodies, and has played in many European courts.

Professor Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, grandson of the American poet, formerly Asst. Prof. of Comparative Literature at Columbia University, and lecturer at Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Wellesley and Vassar. Dr. Dana's new book "Seven Soviet Plays," just off the press, is winning much favorable comment. Mr. Herman Smith of New York, author of "Stina" — the story of a cook; and "Kitchens Far and Near." In addition to being a writer and traveler, Mr. Smith has gained fame as a chef. He appears frequently on the Mary Margaret MacBride Radio Show. Mrs. Lucy Poate Stebbins, author of eight novels and co-author with her son, Dr. Richard Stebbins, of three biographies: "Frank Damrosch," "Let the People Sing," "The Trollopes," a much praised chronicle of a writing family; and a new book to be issued in the fall, "Women Novelists," written under the pseudonym award of 1944-45. Mrs. Stebbins has also held the Oberlander Fellowship for Foreign Travel. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., member of the Massachusetts Legislature, Captain George W. Bailey, Army Transport pilot who holds the world's record of 136 round trips flying the Hump, over the rugged, lonely Himalayas, carrying cargoes of T.N.T., bombs, and food. Alexander Karamikas, author of "In Praise of Heroes," contributor to Yank, Airforce, etc., aide to Wilhelms Stefansson at Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska. Doreen Young, born in Ceylon of English parents and Director of Clubmobile Unit following General Patton's "Ghost Corps." Completing this already most interesting list will be stars of current plays at the Boston theatres.

A reception to the guests will be held at eleven o'clock, followed by the breakfast, and interesting talks by the honor guests. Mrs. Francis J. Flagg and Mrs. John W. Gahan, President of the Club, will assist in the receiving line.

Mrs. Charles N. Arbuckle is in charge of the reception and ushers include Mesdames Moses G. Brudno, Harry C. Barber, W. Irving Carney, Paul M. Goddard, Edwin B. Goodall, Melville D. Liming, Kirtley F. Mather, Ralph L. Morse, Norman Nagle, John R. Perry, Harry C. Troutwine, George H. Wight, and Everett C. Winslow.

The breakfast is being arranged by Mrs. Everett C. Winslow and Mrs. Robert Cochrane. Mrs. Mary Potter, a past president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will offer the invocation. Mrs. Francis J. Flagg is the capable and charming toastmistress.

Mrs. John Capron is in charge of hostesses. Club past presidents: Mesdames Alden H. Speare, George Willard Smith, Howard O. Winslow, Frank H. Stewart, and S. Hardy Mitchell. ## Burns-Kerr Post Plans Dance

At the meeting of Burns-Kerr Post, No. 333, American Legion held in the War Memorial Building, Newton Centre last Thursday evening plans were completed for their first dance to be held Friday evening, April 26, at the West Newton Armory. John McGuinness is general chairman in charge of arrangements and Harold A. Bailey is in charge of tickets. Commander Edward J. McPhee urged that all members cooperate in this first social event. Moving pictures were shown of sports highlights in 1945 and Adjutant Daniel Hoar reported on the growth of the building fund. The next meeting will be on Thursday, April 10.

Rotary Club

Col. Richard H. Lee of Newton, veteran of World War II, an attorney and former member of the Board of Aldermen, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club last Friday at the Brae Burn Country Club. He was introduced by Ted Leonard and received an enthusiastic welcome home.

Col. Lee was with an anti-aircraft outfit occupying the Moselle Valley in Germany. He vividly described the occupation of that particular section by American troops up to September 1945, at which time he left there. Col. Lee said he could not say anything from his own experience beyond those which he incurred in the Moselle Valley. The largest cities, Metz and Coblenz were devastated and merely piles of rubble, whereas in contrast the countryside was untouched except for an occasional farm house which was destroyed because of sniping activities. Col. Lee stated that transportation in Germany had utterly broken down, even to the degree that cows were used to draw rural primitive vehicles and used as beasts of burden. He found in general the population to be well clothed and fed with ample reserve stocks in cellars. This, of course, applied to the countryside population rather than to the destroyed cities and their population.

In answer to questions, Col. Lee stated that there was a possibility that some ex-Nazi may have been used in reconstruction work in Germany because after all, they were the only ones that knew something about the crippled utility and water systems. There was, of course, a straining out process to detect former Nazi chieftains so that they might be properly disciplined.

Relative to democracy becoming the ruling force in Germany, the Colonel stated that it was a long job so far as he could see requiring a lot of patience, statesmanship, and interest, and unless it was handled in this fashion it would appear that the German population would only exchange one group of overlords for another.

In conclusion, Col. Lee stated that the German population in the Moselle Valley were making every attempt to co-operate with the armed forces in expediting the carrying out of requests and commands, apparently in the hope that it was better to go along peacefully rather than to obstruct the work of occupation. It is felt among the Germans that in this manner they will be able to accomplish more for themselves and for their own country than by treacherous tactics.

Sarah Hull Chapter D. R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, held a meeting on Wednesday, March 13, 1946, at the home of Mrs. Raymond L. Fosgate, 999 Walnut street, Newton Highlands at 2 p. m. Mrs. Charles W. Wright was co-hostess with Mrs. Fosgate. Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson the Regent, presided, and after the Salute to the Flag, a very brief business meeting was held.

Then Mrs. Johnson spoke on the subject, "The Beginnings of Equal Educational Opportunities for Women." She told us that, in spite of the fact that Massachusetts founded schools and colleges for men almost as soon as the Colony was started, there was no opportunity for women to have even a common school education for many years after that—and it was not until Mary Lyon in the 1830's, and Sophia Smith a while afterward agitated and worked for a college for women, that there was any chance for a woman to get a higher education. Her talk was most interesting and instructive.

After the paper read by Mrs. Johnson, a social hour was enjoyed, with tea, coffee, and sandwiches being served. There were many guests besides the members present, including three officers from the State Society, Mrs. Fite, the State Regent, Mrs. Hemmingsway, and Miss Grace I. Gay.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The romantic story of Celanese, the wonder fabric, was told in a charming and informal manner by Miss Marie Lefebvre, the attractive Director of the Consumer's Relations Department of the Celanese Corporation of America, at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, March 19, at the Club house. Although the art of weaving dates from 8000 B.C., the use of Synthetic fabrics is of very recent origin, and is the result of the experiments of two Swiss brothers, Drefus by name. The first use of their discovery of cellulose acetate was for the production of fire proof film and used in the beginning solely by Pathe Freres in France.

Designers of the Celanese company travel constantly to find motifs for the original prints which are used by the prominent manufacturers of women's garments. Miss Lefebvre showed many unusual and beautiful samples of material.

The Social Hall of the club was transformed into a Mexican Fiesta through the efforts of Mrs. Philip E. Goodhue, Chairman of Art and Preservation of Antiques. Examples of Mexican art were exhibited in every form, baskets, antique silver, tiles, dolls, beautiful serapes, table cloths, rugs, were among the display. Adorning the walls, were brilliant posters, in the vivid colors one always associates with Mexico. Mrs. Frank E. Morris loaned her collection of water colors of Mexican scenes for the Fiesta. Assisting Mrs. Goodhue, and dressed in striking Mexican costumes, were Mrs. Frank Wightman, Mrs. Carl E. Horton, Mrs. Kathryn Abrams, Mrs. Otho Fish.

Pourers at the tea were Mrs. D. T. Gallison, Mrs. Frederick W. Harding and Mrs. William T. White.

The opening exercises were conducted by Miss Estelle G. Marsh, club president. Mrs. Edwin P. McGill program chairman, presented the speaker.

On Tuesday, March 26th, at 1 p. m., a Coffee-Dessert Bridge will be held at the Club house under the auspices of the Committee on Ways and Means, Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea, chairman. For reservations telephone, Big. 2973.

Newtonville Garden Club

The Newtonville Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. Pattengill, 142 Kirkstall road, Newtonville at 10 a. m., Thursday, March 28, 1946. Mrs. M. F. Eades will speak on "Poppies."

Newton District Nursing Association

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held at the Clafin School in Newtonville with Mrs. John F. Brown, the president, presiding. The new members of the Board were welcomed and introduced to all the officers and board members. Miss Hilga S. Nelson, executive director, reported that in spite of bad weather and a shortage of staff nurses, a tremendous amount of work was accomplished during January and February.

A demonstration of a Visit to an Expectant Mother was given by two of the nurses, Miss Stearns and Miss Fitzgerald. It was most interesting to see just what the nurse does when going into a home, bringing with her all necessary equipment. She is prepared to answer questions a mother may have regarding her own health and those pertaining to preparation for her new baby.

Mease, General Secretary of the Newton "Y" and Dr. Mather were Newton delegates attending the convention.

You'll be okay, Soldier!

HIGH UP on the crowded deck of a hospital ship, a homesick Yank strains his eyes for a sign of home. On the dock below he sees a Red Cross Motor Corps driver. At the sight of her heart-warming smile, he knows she's saying:

"You'll be okay, Soldier!"
He knows, because he's heard other Red Cross girls say those same simple words of cheer. On Luzon. In the hospital. On the dock where he took ship for home. Aboard the hospital ship.

He knows that they are not mere words, for he has seen the helpful service that inspires them. He knows, too, that he can find the same friendly, understanding helpfulness in his home town Red Cross chapter.

And while this girl and her comrades throughout the world represent the Red Cross, in reality you are the Red Cross. She, the Red Cross worker, is still needed. You who make the Red Cross possible also are still needed. Without you there would be no Red Cross.

So let your dollars follow your heart. Give to the Red Cross. Give all you possibly can.

Spring Lawn Care
 Last week a short article appeared in these columns warning you against getting started too early with applications of seed and fertilizer.
 If the urge gets the best of you then here are some things you may do.
 RAKE THE LAWN—Just as soon as the ground has dried so you may walk and work on it without foot prints you may rake up the old leaves, twigs and dead clippings so the sun may get at the crowns of the dormant grass. It is best to burn these sweepings as many weed seeds will be destroyed.
 ROLL as soon as the soil is reasonably dry but not soggy. Do not overdo this as you will suffocate the grass roots.
 Give your lawn a very close inspection and notice the voids (those thin or bare spots) and make an estimate of the total square feet of them. Buy, but do not plant yet, enough seed to fill them in along with a generous over-all application to thicken the general stand. The voids are no doubt made by death of weeds such as plantain and dandelion or even crab grass.
 The former two will be with you again this year and the crab will come in unless a good stand of grass shades the soil. Later on we will tell you how to get rid of the plantain, chickweed, dandelion and other weeds by using 24D.

Weeds are but nature's means of keeping the soil covered with growing plants to prevent erosion and excess evaporation. You can control weed growth largely with proper fertilization of the existing grass. Too many folks have starved their lawns by using low analysis or insufficient fertilizer. Clippings when left where they fall will replenish most of the phosphorous and potash taken by grass growth but you must put the nitrogen back through additional fertilizer applications. This may be done with two materials. The chemical organics will act faster and of course be used up quicker. The organics will act slower but feed longer and more evenly. Golf clubs find that heavier applications of organics, such as Milorganite, in the fall growing months from August 15 through October 15, followed by lighter applications in the spring feeds more to the grass and less to the weeds. Adopt the twice per year method and see how much better your lawn will be and also the even growth and uniform color throughout the growing season. Proper fertilization will cause good lawn grasses to stool and thicken thus driving out weeds and preventing the germination of annual weed seeds.

"Oh what a terrible winter Oh what a beautiful spring"

MAYBE!

BUT YOU PROMISED ME A NEW SCOOTER, MA!

SURE BUT YOU'RE LIKE THE "EL" - THEY'RE STILL WAITING FOR NEW BUSES LIKE YOUR DAD IS WAITING FOR HIS NEW CAR.

SO DID WE! BUT BETWEEN 65,000 AND 75,000 RIDERS ARE STILL ENTERING OUR DOWNTOWN STATIONS BETWEEN 5 AND 6 PM.

THOUGHT THE END OF THE WAR WOULD MEAN THE END OF THESE RUSH HOUR CROWDS.

REMEMBER LAST DECEMBER WHEN THE CHARLESTOWN BRIDGE WAS WRECKED BY A BIG SHIP?

SURE DO, STILL CAN'T FIGURE OUT HOW THE "EL" MANAGED TO GET IT BACK IN SHAPE IN ONLY 73 HOURS.

NEITHER DO I! I KNOW I CAN'T MAKE AS GOOD TIME IN MY CAR AS I DID BEFORE THE WAR!

WELL, PROBABLY IT WILL I UNDERSTAND THEY ARE EXPECTING QUITE A FEW BUSES BY SUMMER.

I DON'T SEE HOW "EL" BUSES DO AS WELL AS THEY DO THE WAY TRAFFIC IS THESE DAYS.

GEE, I WISH THE "EL" WOULD GIVE BETTER BUS SERVICE.

THAT'S TRUE ABOUT THE "EL" CARRYING 125,000,000 MORE PASSENGERS IN 1945 THAN IN 1940.

YOU BET 420,000,000 OF THEM LAST YEAR AND WITHOUT NEARLY ENOUGH NEW EQUIPMENT.

BET THE "EL'S" PRETTY HAPPY ABOUT IT, TOO! I'M TOLD IT COST THEM ABOUT 1400,000 THIS WINTER JUST FOR SNOW REMOVAL AND WHAT THEY DID CERTAINLY HELPED EVERYBODY.

OH BOY! FIRST DAY OF SPRING! NO MORE SHOVELING SNOW FOR YOURS TRULY!

THERE'S ALWAYS A BIG RUSH-HOUR CROWD AT PARK STREET. I WONDER WHY?

THAT'S BECAUSE IT'S THE BUSIEST TRANSFER POINT ON THE SYSTEM - WITH SEVEN SUBWAY LINES BRINGING IN CAPACITY CROWDS.

I'VE BEEN WAITING HERE FOR A HURON AVENUE TRACKLESS TROLLEY AND NOTHING HAS COME BUT ARLINGTON HEIGHTS CARS. HOW COME?

THAT'S EASY! THERE ARE MORE OF US GOING TO ARLINGTON HEIGHTS THAN TO HURON AVENUE.

IT'S TOO BAD WE DON'T HAVE STAGGERED HOURS FOR WORK THE WAY WE USED TO.

SURE IS, BUT WE COULD STAGGER OUR OWN HOURS AND NOT RIDE IN RUSH-HOURS!

YES - A TOUGH WINTER, BUT WE LOOK FOR BETTER CONDITIONS

We'd like to say for certain that the worst is over. And it would be over, if only all the new equipment on order could be delivered soon.

We feel reasonably certain that 100 of our 232 buses on order will be delivered by mid-summer.

Also on order are 31 P.C.C. cars. These can be delivered to us within 60 days after the plant making them resumes operations.

Of the trackless trolleys on order, 25 ought to be delivered by Labor Day.

We hope that a more abundant supply of vital replacement and repair parts will be delivered to us in the months ahead, thereby enabling us to reduce the number of vehicles out of service for want of such parts.

As production conditions improve, you will find this improvement reflected in better "El" service.

BUT HERE'S SOMETHING YOU CAN BANK ON

Our new spring schedules provide more frequent service on the surface car, bus and trackless trolley lines. Some of these schedules are already in effect and the others will be in operation by mid-April.

Red Cross—

tion symbolizing our heartfelt thanks to the American Red Cross for the aid they rendered us during the darkest hours of our experience.

"There are few things which can be said with certainty in this world of disagreement, however there is one thing we can say without fear of contradiction, that is, the Red Cross did a splendid job for Prisoners of War. We know this from our own experience. Our presence here this evening is definite proof of the effort of the Red Cross in our behalf.

"Red Cross food packages received at Prison Camps often meant the difference between life and death to American Prisoners of War. Therefore, we the members of Massachusetts Chapter of Prisoners of War express our undying gratitude for the services of the American Red Cross and pledge our complete support in your present Fund drive. We sincerely wish you every success."

"This is what your fund did during the war, and we are still working with and for the men in uniform," commented Mr. Whittemore.

The Real Foundation
Burn down your cities and leave your farms, and your cities will spring up again as if by magic; but destroy our farms and the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the country.—William Jennings Bryan.

Plan "E"—

formed or uninformed, Mr. McLaughlin proceeded to explain this system of voting.

In voting for the nine councilmen at large the voter votes for everyone in order of choice so that if his first choice has already won, his ballot is counted for his second choice, or if his first choice is defeated, the ballot is counted for his second or third choice if both one and two have already lost, and so on down the line. In this way every ballot counts and no vote is wasted. The counting of the ballot takes longer than the straight all-or-nothing ballot, but the citizens of Cambridge feel the extra time and effort well worth it. The result has been that the nine men represent 90 per cent of the people who vote, and usually as a first, second or third choice, a far cry from the ward system by which a boss who can control 30 per cent of the vote in the ward can get his candidate in by splitting up the vote with enough candidates. This is truly giving the people exactly what they want and is impossible for politicians to manipulate, which is why it is the politicians who are agitating for its repeal. Another direct result is that better men are running for office because they do not have to fear malicious slander, since the second choice vote is always important to each candidate as well as first choice, and he will therefore not slander the first choice of the voter for fear of alienating him altogether. Thus P.R. has had a cleansing and salubrious effect on Cambridge politicians.

McLaughlin then came to the formal or organizational side of Plan E. The nine councilmen elected at large comprise the city council and elect from their number a Mayor who acts as ceremonial head of the city, presides over the council and in an emergency is recognized as official head of the city. The council is analogous to the board of directors of a business corporation, laying down the broad legislative policy, but having nothing to do with the administration of the city business. They appoint a professional city manager to be the principal administrator of the policy of the council, recognizing that the city is a business that spends millions of dollars a year and its administration could not be left to inexperienced amateurs who must also be sensitive to political pressures. The manager has power of appointment and removal of all but civil service employees, and is responsible for all the departments and administrative work of government.

The manager must realize that although every sensible saving must be instituted, this also means sensible spending so that the tax payers get the worth of their taxes in services. In Cambridge the result has been materially obvious to each citizen in the efficient system of garbage collection and of snow removal now that the city has bought its own equipment instead of renting it, often from the councilmen who were being underpaid ($500 a year). The councilmen now receive $4000 a year so that they need not be dishonest to live decently and still maintain public office. Under the guidance of the manager, the city has entered new businesses such as the operation of a salvage plant, building and maintenance of their own streets. The city employees have also benefited with an average raise of $340 per person per year, and time and a half for overtime.

On the financial side, there has been a $10.40 decrease in the tax rate, and 55 per cent decrease in four years of debt and an $830,000 rise in the surplus. The city hasn't had to borrow at all. Thus the overall result in Cambridge was summed up by Mr. McLaughlin as a "100 per cent accurate reflection of the voters in the government, better men running for office, and a modern, streamlined and efficient way to man a million dollar business."

Following McLaughlin's talk the balance of the evening was devoted to questions. Some of the more pertinent questions and abstracts of McLaughlin's answers follow:

Q. "How does a $4000 salary of a councilman eliminate graft?"

A. Previously some of the councilmen had no visible means of support outside of their five hundred a year salary and therefore succumbed to temptation.

Q. "What is the part of the Cambridge Civic Association in keeping government good?"

A. It is a political pressure group of Cambridge citizens active in endorsing and supporting candidates that they feel are competent, and in keeping issues before the council and the public. It combines all Cambridge political organizations except for the League of Women Voters because they felt the latter were doing too good and important a job to be merged with anyone, and besides, added Mr. McLaughlin, "you can't win an argument with the women anyway."

Q. "What are the penalties for a councilor who tries to influence the manager in his appointment and removal powers?"

A. $100 fine and possible jail sentence.

Q. "If Cambridge had Mayors before like Childs and Goddard and Weeks wouldn't they have the same results as now?"

A. No, any Mayor has to cater to public opinion on which he depends for votes. A manager can say to the pressure groups, "No, these savings belong to the general public."

Q. "What steps are necessary for a city to adopt Plan E?"

A. 10 per cent of the people petition that it be placed on the ballot at the next election and it is then voted on by the people.

Q. "Has there been any change in the per cent of the voters registered?"

A. No, getting out the vote is still the hardest thing a civic organization has to do.

Q. "How is the manager removed?"

A. At the pleasure of a majority of the city council after public hearing. His only protection is public opinion.

Q. "What is the manager's salary?"

A. $15,000 a year.

Q. "Does the Mayor assign specific duties to the council?"

A. Yes, he assigns committees which has the same effect as allotting work.

Q. "Has Plan E ever failed?"

A. Yes, it has been dropped in Toledo and Ashtabula, Ohio, and other cities mostly by being declared unconstitutional by the state court. (Editor's note—The latest statistics are that only 14 per cent of municipalities that have adopted council-manager form have reconverted.)

McLaughlin closed by again reminding the audience that "a form of government as such can accomplish nothing with bad men running it," and that "no government is better than the community wants it to be." Plan E provides a better and more efficient machinery through which to manage the affairs of government, but the primary need is still "good men and an alert public to keep good men in office."

Roy S. Edwards, president of the Chamber, was master of ceremonies and head table guests included Mayor and Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Gill; President William H. Sullivan of the Kiwanis Club; President Warren W. Oliver of the Rotary Club; President Asa D. Blakeslee of the Lions Club;

Frank H. Townsend, executive secretary of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce; Miss Adelaide B. Ball, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Hazel Tarbox, president of Newton Zonta Club; and Mrs. Earl B. Millard, president of the Newton League of Women Voters. Clarence R. Mease, general secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A., offered the invocation.

In a brief talk, preceding the principal address, Mayor Goddard stated that an active interest on the part of Newton citizens in government exists, and that adoption of Plan E will not reduce the tax rate substantially.

SIDE LIGHTS: The presidents of the three service organizations gave vent with their club songs as each club was called upon to take respective bows — the audience got a great kick out of that "Lions Roar"

McLaughlin, an attorney, was at his best in defense rebuttal during the Question and Answer period. He brought forth much laughter with his wit.

The Mayor won the admiration of the audience, sitting back listening to the speech and discussions without having the floor. After all, the meeting was not meant for a debate and the Mayor was just a guest.

The United States adopted the budget system in the year 1921.

The Grin that Won a War

DON'T LET HIM LOSE IT NOW!

HE WENT INTO BATTLE with a smile and a wise crack... he took all the enemy could throw at him, and suffered in silence when wounded.

We can't let him lose that spirit now. During the endless months of impatient waiting to come home... during the monotonous tour of duty in the armies of occupation... or the long weeks of convalescing... that is when thoughts may weigh heavily on his mind.

We at home helped him keep his chin up. When he's back, proudly wearing the little gold eagle, emblem of an honorable discharge... will that grin fade? Will that happy-go-lucky smile change to bitterness as he tries to adapt himself to civilian life? The grin that won a global war can win a private one and the Red Cross stands ready to help wherever need for its counsel and guidance exists.

Through the long, gruelling years of war the Red Cross reached across the sea and extended a friendly hand to our fighting forces... and those returning home can find in every local chapter the same spirit of helpfulness.

"Just look at what's been happening in our laboratories TO IMPROVE YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE"

DEVELOPED in our laboratories, made practical by engineering and manufacturing skill, here are a few of the new things improving telephone service:

Radio links to supplement open wire and cable circuits over land or over sea; operator-dialing of long distance calls that will put your distant calls through faster; a tiny tube that makes possible the sending of hundreds of long distance telephone conversations at the same time — or the living patterns of television — over a single coaxial or radio channel; an electronic clock, accurate to within a second a year, to help in the measurement of frequencies upon which modern communications are based.

Ideas like these, born of constant research at the Bell Laboratories, help us in our aim — to provide a telephone service that meets constantly higher standards.

Newton Lions Club

At an unusually well attended meeting the Newton Lions Club heard Frank Andersen of the Andersen Laboratories speak on Mass Psychology. Mr. Andersen has been preminent in this field for the past sixteen years. From his studies, the speaker said, he has been able to harness and measure a Natural Law which makes it possible to anticipate the effect of psychological trends. These changes which affect everyone can be pre-determined and from his charts Mr. Andersen was able to forecast the exact date of the end of the war, (August 14th) six months before it took place. The speaker was introduced by Lion Herb Dunn who recently brought two new members into the Club, Lions Roland Norwood and George Pascoe.

King Lion Asa Blakeslee presided and Lion Tamer John W. (Jack) Tapper had a busy evening leading the Lions in song. Jack presented a good friend of his Edward Grethe of Newtonville for initiation as a new member. Guests of Lion Tapper, who is President of the Boston Association of Piano Tuners were George Schwendemann, Secretary and Earle W. Smith, Treasurer of the Association of which Lion Grethe is also a member. Other guests present were Vic Herbert of Newton Highlands who came with Lion Charlie Monahan, Anthony Gatti with Edwin House and Fred Munday a guest of Lewis Tedstone.

SAVE FOR A SUNNY DAY!

Are you one who takes a gloomy view of saving — thinks of it only as protection against a "rainy day"? It's that, too, of course—but a savings bank book can be a nice, cheerful thing to have around a house, too.

Look into yours! See how the balance is mounting week by week, month by month, year by year! Think what it can mean—the down-payment on that home you dream of, a new car, travel, better education for the children! Pleasant thoughts, all of them, aren't they?

"BUT I HAVEN'T GOT A SAVINGS BANK PASSBOOK!"

Don't say that! Instead, why not come in today and open a savings account? Deposit regularly and soon you, too, will have that "little extra" that makes the difference between living—and just existing! Begin saving now for a future of sunny days!

We're not suggesting that you pitch a teepee on our doorstep. But we know how much you, like so many other car owners, want B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns on your car, and we know why. Because you have heard that:

1. The new, better synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich makes Silvertowns run cooler, wear longer than prewar tires.
2. The 35% stronger tire body is made possible by a new, stronger cord, more cords per inch in the top ply, and an extra shock-absorbing breaker strip.
3. The new wider, flatter "road level" tread puts more rubber on the road to share the wear and provide quicker stops, better traction, and more safety on the turns.
4. More than 2,000 tests and 17,000,000 miles of the toughest kind of actual road service developed that the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown outwears prewar natural rubber tires.

Chosen B. U.'s 'Woman of the Year'

Roberta "Bobbie" Kane of 36 Thaxter road, Newtonville, a senior in Boston University's College of Practical Arts and Letters, broke a 17 year precedent on last Tuesday night when she was named "Woman of the Year" at Boston University, the first girl to be so honored by editors of the Boston University News, the undergraduate weekly.

Edith Hall of Watertown, editor of the publication, who conferred the honor on Miss Kane, speaking for the editorial board said "In our estimation she did more for the University than anyone else among all the students." The editorial board selected Miss Kane from the University's enrollment of 15,000.

For two years she has been a member of the All-University Student Council and is serving currently as its president. This organization conducts or supervises all activities in which the entire student body participates. Among other positions "Bobbie" has held, some of the most important are serving as president of her junior class, president of the student governing board at the college of practical arts and letters, and as a member of the All-University Student Defense Council. As a junior, she was

A definite widening of Newton Corner, removal of the Bank center, construction of a traffic terminal including benches and shelters for bus and trolley passengers, curbs for parking, two large parking areas, improvement in conducting the overflow of traffic, cross walks and an entire beautifying of the Corner with gardens and trees, was the plan discussed and voted upon to be presented before the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor for immediate action, at the opening session of the newly formed Newton Improvement Association last Tuesday evening, March 16th at the Hunnewell Club, corner of Church and Eldridge streets, Newton.

A capacity audience of Newton residents flowed into the assembly hall to hear Alderman Theodore Lockwood speak on the main topic of the evening, "The Proposed Widening of Nonantum Square." Alderman Donald Gibbs spoke on Off street parking and what it means to Nonantum Square. Harold A. Wooster, head librarian, discussed improvement of library facilities.

"A trading center reflects the character of a community, yet we have never given the merchants of Newton Corner a break," stressed Lockwood as he explained how inadequate handling of traffic, lack of sufficient facilities for shopper-parking, and the poor conditions existing

Two-Year-Old Saved From Drowning by Passing Army Officer

A two year old boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacKenzie of 38 Cummings road, Newton Centre, wandered from his home on Tuesday morning and was saved from drowning in Bullochs Pond by Capt. Stanley Carp, a U. S. Army doctor, who happened to be passing in his car.

On hearing the shouts of Mrs. Patrick Sweeney of Newton who saw the child fall in the pond as she was waiting for a bus, Capt. Carp ran to the rescue and after pulling the boy from the water applied artificial respiration. Patrolman John B. Foley arrived at the scene shortly afterwards and assisted Capt. Carp.

The child was taken to the Newton Hospital by Patrolmen John Geegan and David T. Dalton where he was treated for immersion and then taken home.

Boy, 41-2, Struck By Auto, Dies

The boy was taken to the Newton Hospital where he died about two hours later. He had received a fracture of the skull and other multiple fractures according to Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher.

The operator of the car which struck the boy was Daniel W. Friend of 12 Aberdeen road, Wellesley who recently re-enlisted in the Navy. In his report to the police Friend said the child ran from between two parked cars into the path of his machine.

This was the first auto fatality to occur in Newton this year.

The Finance Committee recommended only two cuts in the mayor's figures and the board unanimously accepted the committee's report. The cuts were $50,000 in the budget reserve account and $100 in the Street Department budget. The budget reserve fund recommended by the mayor was $70,000, but the amount was reduced to $20,000 by the board.

The Water Department budget was passed separately as the money for this department is derived from water revenue. The sum of $342,560.45 was appropriated by the board which is in addition to the sum of $22,236.11 previously appropriated this year.

All increases in salaries for officials and employees as recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard were granted by the Board including a $300 increase in salary for City Treasurer Clarence C. Colby which was in addition to the original budget. This brings the City Treasurer's salary to $5300 making him the highest salaried employee. Mayor Goddard received a salary of $5000.

Other department heads received increases in salaries as follows:

John W. Murphy, Chairman of Board of Assessors, from $4200 to $4500.

Public Health Nurse Week

Public health nurses will be honored in the first annual observance of "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week," to be held, April 7 to 13, in Greater Boston communities and throughout the land.

Asserting that the public health nurse is one of the strongest links in the chain of disease prevention and the promotion of good health, President Truman today paid tribute to the public health nurses of America. "I hope the day will not be far distant when their services will be available to the total population," he said.

Mrs. Philip Eiseman of Cambridge is president of the Massachusetts Organization for Public Health Nursing which will promote a state-wide program as its part of the national observance. The Newton District Nursing Association will join with all other public health nurses of the town in local observance of the week.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

UNO Meeting

It is most unfortunate that ex-Governor Earle of Penn., should have seen fit to unleash one of his typical verbal barrages against Russia just prior to this week's crucial meeting of the security council. The fact that Earle is a former diplomat who served in Europe makes the situation all the more unfortunate. We hope that Stalin and the Russian people as a whole have learned to discount much of what the former Governor had to say. Here is a man who has always been a glutton for publicity, and at any price. We can only wonder how the late Franklin D. Roosevelt ever happened to appoint him to a diplomatic post of any sort, important or otherwise. The entire international situation is in such delicate balance right now that I shudder to think what might happen if a few more egotistical politicians lose their heads and start sounding off.

Apart from the above, it seems now as if we might reasonably expect a good deal of worthwhile accomplishment from the current session in Hunter College. Most people believe that this session may make or break the UNO. It was, therefore, with a feeling of the most profound relief that we all heard Marshal Stalin's remarks early this week. Once we solve the problem of relationship between Russia and the United States, we can breathe a bit easier.

In this connection, are some of my readers wondering about the possible harmful effect of Walter Winchell's continuous broadsides aimed at Stalin? Even if he does have a few facts which neither the President nor the State Department has seen fit to release to the American people, is he justified in constantly throwing a scare into us all and giving himself credit for scoring a scoop? I don't like it and I feel that he is off on the wrong foot. Nothing unusual for Winchell, of course.

Republican State Ticket

The recent announcement that the President of the State Senate, Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading, will run for Lt. Governor in the June primaries is extremely interesting. This columnist has had the pleasure of knowing the gentleman, though not very intimately, for a good many years. He is a typical Yankee of the highest type. He is genial, level-headed and sound. He has the reputation of making better speeches outside the Senate than inside. That will stand him in good stead a bit later on. Of course, one of his biggest assets is his name. There is still a certain amount of magic in the name Coolidge. Unquestionably, there will be a certain percentage of voters, believe it or not, who will vote for Arthur Coolidge under the impression that he and the late Calvin Coolidge are one and the same. Apart from that, however, there will be a great many voters who will assume that this Coolidge is probably related to the former President and is therefore worthy of support.

It should be noted at this point that the Coolidge candidacy was not announced until Speaker Willis of the House had given the all-clear signal. Many of the polls have been sure the Speaker would run for second place on the ticket, despite the storm of criticism which he encountered when he plugged the Plan E idea in the Legislature.

Now the 'G. O. P. high-command is worried about the balance of the state ticket. To be sure, they can count on Secretary of State Cook to fill his usual spot and they can also count on my old friend, Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield, to run once more for Attorney General. That leaves two blank spots, as this column is being written. Robert F. Bradford will, of course, run for the Governorship. Who will fill in as State Treasurer and State Auditor? Will the man who has already suffered two defeats for Treasurer, Laurence Curtis of Boston, make the race again or will he give way to a new man? If a new man is wanted, they could draft a man like Selectman Daniel Tyler of Brookline, former Chief Military Aide to our former Governor, Leverett Saltonstall, now serving as our Junior Senator. Tyler would make a strong candidate. He has been President of the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association and is therefore widely known throughout the state. He is currently chairman of the Brookline G. O. P. Town Committee and also a member of the G. O. P. State Committee. A hard, fearless fighter, he knows his way around and with a background of seventeen years' experience in the banking field, he understands finances. He would make a vigorous campaign and, in my opinion, add strength to the state ticket.

Warden Lawes

All good citizens should read carefully the striking report recently made to Gov. Tobin by former Warden Lawes of New York. His recommendations go to the heart of our entire prison problem. For example, we have known for many, many years that the rotten old State Prison at Charlestown would have to be torn down at the earliest possible moment. Now that an outside expert has taken the same stand, there is a better chance that something will be done about it. The idea of moving the prison to Concord is appealing, provided, of course, that it is built sufficiently strong. Concord is quite a way out in the country. More about this later on.

Answer to last week's quiz. Harold H. Burton is the most recent appointee to the Supreme Court.

This week's question is: Who preceded Joseph W. Bartlett in the position of City Solicitor and who preceded Frank M. Grant as City Clerk.

Letters to Editor

Editor of the Graphic:

Although I am just an humble citizen of Newton, and have never held a public office, I still feel a deep interest in the discussion regarding a manager for our city.

While Newton has always been remarkably free from corrupt politics, still it must be borne in mind that the population of the city is mounting with great rapidity; and with it there is bound to be increasing liability of less care in the selection of its elected officials. Such is the case with all other cities, so why not expect that the same situation will sooner or later prevail here? Consequently this would seem to be the time to look ahead into the future, and create the means for meeting and defeating the evil that attends corrupt politics before it rears its ugly head within our midst.

The greatest argument in favor of having a city manager is the fact that wherever it has been tried, it has proved to be a success; and with few exceptions municipal government has greatly improved under such a system.

Newton has now become a city of some 75,000 people. Its size warrants having a man at the head of its affairs who can devote every effort and all of his time, to directing and guiding its business. Such a man should be paid what he is worth and, in my humble opinion, a salary of ten thousand dollars would not be too much to pay a skilled and competent city manager.

The very fact that he is hired, rather than elected, places him in a position where his services can be dispensed with if he proves himself unfit for the job. Politics would not enter into the matter, and neither would friendship. He should come to the city a complete stranger, except for the knowledge that we have of his fitness for the task in hand. He would thus begin work with no strings tied to him; no political debts to be paid; and no interests to be considered except the interests of the city as a whole.

If anybody has a good reason for NOT placing our city's affairs in the care of such a person, it would be extremely interesting to hear his side of the discussion. I shall watch the Graphic with interest and hope that, through its columns, the subject of a city manager will be fully discussed from all angles.

S. W.

To the Editor of the Graphic:

On outline of proportional representation and Plan E Manager form of government, as specifically the experience of Cambridge, was very capably given to a large group of Newton's substantial citizens last week. However, it appeared to the writer that few realized that while within a single generation the council-manager type of government has spread its benefits to more than 500 cities and counties, only a small number of cities have attempted the specific form, Plan E. The Council-Manager form of government is widely established.

Doubtless as Newton has had its own type of city charter, certain considerations apply that need special study. In many respects the problem of the thirteen villages held in seven wards, has operated well in the representation of twenty-one aldermen from all sections. Yet, the essence of consideration in Newton is not one as to political aspects. There is little interest in PR or a smaller Council. No reflection falls upon past or present Mayors with the very wide scope of duty falling upon them as civic interest has developed and the increased population multiplied their calls for specific attention to matters of a varied nature. The question in Newton is whether any man without specific, necessary, modern training and experience may assume successfully the head and direction of the business side of a city operation, whose many financial transactions total something over $20,000,000 annually. What would any corporation with such a volume of business do in selection of its general manager?

Is it not apparent that placing the actual management of the business affairs of the City in the hands of a trained, experienced, capable manager would cause a diminution of partisan or factional influence over the government? It has been shown that councils have appointed city managers without regard for their political affiliations, and that these managers, influenced by the nature of their jobs and the ethical standards of their association, throw their influence into the support of impartial administration. Such interruptions as have occurred in manager forms of government have been where political groups have intruded their opposition successfully and succeeded in regaining control.

Management of Newton's governmental business is a big job which obviously in normal course requires full time of a general head, and requires pretraining as well as much current study to maintain a progressive municipality. These studies involve modern economies and the everlasting problem of how to supply the increased demands of modern tastes for the least outlay. Aldermen have nothing to do with administration, except to check appropriations and to legislate, generally speaking.

How many people of Newton know that the City Budget voted last week was 54% higher than the general departmental expenditures of 1938 and 24% higher than the average for the past 18 years? Who believes that the increased burdens of efficient operating as suggested by these figures should rest in the hands of one of our finest and most popular citizens, duly elected, who, however, may not have had the special municipal training and executive experience of this particular field of life work?

Does it not become obvious that the nub of the question lies in the point: "Would Newton get more for the dollar spent?" or "If experience proves that city-managerial obtains more for the dollar spent, would not city-managerial also allow us to set our dollar goals lower and require fewer tax dollars?"

The general problem of the wisdom of regular, uninterrupted, continuously efficient management of City government in Newton makes the discussion of the City-Manager form of government an important question, but the main problem is whether Plan E with P.R. or a modified type may not be the wisest selection for this City. A competent, representative group of citizens might accomplish much in developing the answer and the Chamber of Commerce, comprised of business men, has done well to bring the subject into open discussion.

Theodore R. Lockwood

To the Editor of the Graphic:

House Bill No. 104, now before our State Legislature, presented by Speaker Willis, calls for a vote next November by the people of Boston on Plan E for that city.

Should a similar form of government be adopted by Newton? There is a vital difference between Boston's condition and that of Newton. Boston is in a state of collapse, as Mr. Curley confesses. Newton is in good condition as compared to other cities in the state. Its citizens generally are satisfied with the tax rate and with the men who administer the affairs of the city.

In short Boston's government is both dishonest and inefficient while Newton's is honest but of questionable efficiency. Murray Seasongood, of Cincinnati, a noted authority on city government, in his Godkin lectures at Harvard, lamented the fact that usually a city would not take action in government reform until its condition had sunk to the lowest level. Consequently Newton might do well to give consideration now to the proportional representation — small council — city manager plan before unforeseen conditions dictate its adoption.

It might be well to have an expert and unbiased investigation and report on the condition of Newton. A competent report could be obtained from the National Municipal League of New York.

Perhaps we would find we are not getting 100 cents value per

Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence was born on Waverly Avenue, Newton, April 19th, 1721. An interesting and but little known fact in local history.

H. V. Partelow & Co's new boat wagon is a model of beauty and convenience for conveying boats, and a fine pair of horses furnish motive power. Auburn-dale item.

The work of remodeling the post office block (Newton Lower Falls) is rapidly going on. The upper portion formerly used as a church has been divided into 14 rooms and supplied with new windows, making 2 convenient tenements.

Newton Graphic, March 27, 1896 50 Years Ago

A meeting of those interested in forming a Baptist Church in Newtonville was held Sunday afternoon in Dennison Hall, and the matter was fully considered. A committee was chosen to formulate some plan for the future. The Newtonville Cycle Club is one of the many social, progressive organizations in Newton. The club members, composed of ladies and gentlemen from all parts of Newton, are anxious for the riding season to open.

The club members, when on their run, do not "scorch" but ride for pleasure, taking their time and stopping at points of interest.

The plan of the Brookline Street Railway Company to lay railway tracks through Boylston, Dudley, Jackson and Cypress Streets, between Brookline and Newton Centre, is warmly advocated by the people of Newton Centre, who see in the new line an important and needed connection with Boston. The company agrees to carry passengers to Brookline for a 5 cent fare.

Newton Graphic, March 25, 1921 25 Years Ago

Former Mayor Charles E. Hatfield was yesterday chosen treasurer of Middlesex County, to fill the unexpired term of the late Joseph O. Hayden.

City Comptroller John Daboll tendered his resignation at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday and Mayor Childs appointed City Clerk Frank M. Grant as temporary comptroller. Mr. Daboll has filled the office since May, 1919. His appointment gave Newton the distinction of being one of the first cities to install the system of accounting that the State Bureau of Statistics uses.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From

The Newton League of Women Voters

Let's talk no more of war! The UNO is at our gates. This week the Security Council met at Hunter College. The Secretary-General will establish the organization at its temporary headquarters and begin collecting a staff; the old League of Nations will formally dissolve, and its assets will be turned over to the United Nations. Sixteen months after the Dumbarton Oaks plan was presented to the world we have a full-fledged organization, 51 nations strong, growing and so far undaunted by the multiplicity of problems in the post victory world.

A start was made at the first meeting in London. The original plan was to keep it strictly organizational but the pressure of events forced the Assembly to face such vital questions as Refugees, Trusteeships, the Free Press, Food, and Atomic Energy. In the Security Council the problems of Iran, Greece, Indonesia and Syria and Lebanon were taken up one by one. Senator Vandenberg said on his return to the Senate: "The amazing thing is not that at London there were areas of disagreement, but that the areas of agreement were so vast and so significant. . . in 37 days the United Nations turned a blueprint into a going concern."

The United Nations has gotten off to a good start, let us now go on to improve it. Probably one reason that the areas of agreement were so large is that every statesman knows that for the moment his people are united in a demand for peace. If the PEOPLE OF THE GREAT POWERS exert all their influence in this direction, then the United Nations CANNOT fail.

while Newton's is honest but of questionable efficiency.

Murray Seasongood, of Cincinnati, a noted authority on city government, in his Godkin lectures at Harvard, lamented the fact that usually a city would not take action in government reform until its condition had sunk to the lowest level. Consequently Newton might do well to give consideration now to the proportional representation — small council — city manager plan before unforeseen conditions dictate its adoption.

It might be well to have an expert and unbiased investigation and report on the condition of Newton. A competent report could be obtained from the National Municipal League of New York.

Perhaps we would find we are not getting 100 cents value per dollar on our tax money. Perhaps we would find our city planning had been stalled too long and that improvements, at Newton Corner and elsewhere, were badly needed. Perhaps we would find our council (aldermen) too large and too poorly paid to render satisfactory service. (Editor's note, Newton Aldermen receive no pay for their services). Perhaps under Plan E we could get even better mayors than has been our lot. Perhaps a trained city manager would take a great burden off less expert citizens. Perhaps proportional representation would give minorities a voice in city affairs. Perhaps our citizens would then take elections more seriously. Perhaps a good many weaknesses in our present Newton system would be corrected.

Spring Lawn Care

This is the third of a short series of frank expressions on the care of your lawn.

We have already discussed liming, rolling, fertilizing, seeding and raking so now we will talk about mowing.

Mowing of the lawn is an essential part of promoting healthy growth and keeping the stems or leaves in an upright condition and at a beautiful green color.

Too many folks like to skin their grass down and keep it short. This is just an open-house invitation to the millions of weeds brought in by the winds, dogs, birds and foot traffic to take hold and set up for good.

Set your mower to cut not closer than from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches high. This will retain the moisture, keep the sun from the soil and stop weed germination. Cut it again when it is from 3 1/2 to 3 inches high. If the growth is dense you may elect to rake the clippings, if thin then let them fall to cover the soil. Shady areas present another problem if the clippings are left so it might be wise to remove them. Crab grass does not germinate in the shade and drying out is not common hence the need of the clippings is lessened.

The average home hand lawn mower should be sharpened once a season. If you will wait until the second or third mowing has been made, providing you did not mow the lawn earlier in the spring, and then have it sharpened it will give you a cleaner cut all season. Set the revolving blades so they will not press hard on the bottom knife but will shear the grass with clean cuts. Ragged cuts cause the grass to bleed and the tips to turn white. Oil your mower every time you use it but do not wash it with a hose. Water will work into the bearings and rust them away. If the mower is covered with wet clippings, allow them to dry and brush off with a broom.

Most of the lawn mowers are worn out as no new ones have been made for four years. If yours will get you well through this season then keep it going as better quality will come later.

Modern Brick Building to House Cleansing Firm

The construction of a two story brick building at 14 Centre avenue, Newton which will be the home of Tip Top Cleaners and Tailors, will be completed and ready for occupancy in May, according to H. Tevekelian, proprietor.

Formerly located at 427 Centre street, Newton Corner, the plant was destroyed by fire in May 1945. The firm reopened with temporary quarters at 345 Washington street.

The new building will include the most modern Frigid Fur Storage plant, and vaults, absolutely fire and burglar proof. A Tailoring and Furrier department will occupy the second floor under the supervision of expert workmen.

A specialty of Tip Top will be quick service, made possible because all cleansing and tailoring will be done on the premises. The establishment will be one of the finest and cleanest anywhere in the state.

Mr. Tevekelian has been in the cleansing and tailoring business since 1927 when he was associated with the National Cleaners and Dyers at Washington, D. C. He opened the Tip Top firm in Newton in 1932, and his ambition has been to meet the needs of Newton for a modern plant that can take care of all work from tailoring, cleansing etc., to fur storage. After his plant was destroyed by fire he decided to erect the new building and equip it to meet the requirements of an appreciative clientele.

A resident of Newton for 10 years, Mr. Tevekelian resides with his wife and three children at 55 Langdon street, Newton. The children all attend the Cabot School. He is very proud of the fact that all customers who lost apparel as the result of the fire received prompt settlement by an insurance company.

Highway Accidents Up 50 Per Cent According to Kiwanis

Mr. William F. Higgins of the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles, speaking at the Newton Kiwanis Club's noon meeting at the YMCA, Wednesday, declared that accidents on the highways increased 50 per cent in the two weeks following V-J Day, and were up 60 per cent by October of last year.

The accident rate is increasing so alarmingly throughout the nation, Mr. Higgins said, with as many as 45,000 persons killed by automobiles in one year, 1,000,500 injured—40,000 of them crippled for life, that President Truman has called for a meeting of all the motor vehicle registrars in the country to meet with national authorities in an effort to stem the high accident rate and promote safety on the highways.

Speed and carelessness, plus the average human's belief that accidents happen to the other fellow, are the underlying causes of a majority of accidents, the speaker continued. Teenagers, too, he said, present a real problem. Every day the Registry suspends an average of 176 licenses for various offenses and no particular remedy has been found to curb the recklessness of youth on the highways, he concluded—adding that the problem of the youthful driver is definitely one for the owner of the family car.

KIWANIS CLUB NOTES — Henry J. Mascarello, Executive Secretary of the United Prison Association of Massachusetts, assistant to Warden Lawes in the current State Prison investigation, will be the speaker at the Kiwanis Club's meeting, next week. Benjamin Lewis presented Harold Pillsbury the Kiwanis Club's pin for one year's perfect attendance. John Gallagher, Dan Gauthier and Carl Nelson were guests of Kiwanis at this meeting. Dan will be mate of the Kiwanis Sea Scout Ship No. 12. The Board of Directors will meet April 1, at the Newton Cooperative Bank. The Newton Kiwanis Club will journey to Somerville Kiwanis April 11. The Newton Club will celebrate its twentieth anniversary April 24, at the Normandy Ballroom. Leonard Baker, seriously ailing sometime ago, was reported improving. The Kiwanis National Convention will be held at Atlantic City, June 10 through the 13th. Kiwanis Pops Night will be held on June 11, this year.

NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL:

Last week we mentioned that there was an abundance of talent in the theatrical, musical comedy and glee clubs fields in Newton. This week that goes double and we add the All Newton Musical School.

For their third musicale of the Monday evening informal service — free to the public — the teaching staff and one voice student performed before a small but in the third floor audience up in the acoustics are wonderful, the setting perfect, and the music above excellence. The program lasted one hour and listening to the engrossing strains of Chopin, Brahms and Mendelssohn, added to the lovely singing by Mrs. Mary Gardner, was time worth while spent and Newtonites would do well to attend the next series if they appreciate such hours. A larger hall, more widely circulated publicity and much more of an audience would make the School the leading outlet and source for the "finer arts" in the city. More citizens in the Newtons should have the opportunity to hear such talented artists and at times various guest professionals.

Miss Irene Forte, piano, and Mrs. Mary Festinger at the piano spent the evening with "Sonata in D Minor—First Movement" by Brahms and the piece was played Carnegie Hall style. Miss Ruth Spencer at the piano was energetic, swift, yet conscientious and beautiful in playing Chopin's "Mazurka" and the more popular "Fantasie Impromptu" which has as a theme the familiar and lovely "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows". Mrs. Mary Gardner sang several numbers in fine soprano voice but was especially good in two Italian selections "Dormi Mia Bella"—Bessani and "Danza danza Fanciulla Gentile"—Durante. Mrs. Agnes Olson then played Chopin's "Ballade in G Minor" and here indeed was a classic. Miss Olson surely knows and loves her Chopin; the music was captivating and her deft feeling and touch made it so. The last number for the evening was "Trio in D Minor" by Mendelssohn which Irene Forte and Mrs. Beulah Bell at the piano first played alone. However at the finish of the long, comforting and appealing movement Miss Edna Tuckerman, cellist, arrived and the piece was played again. And the addition did make a difference. The cello is that important to the movement.

HIGH SCHOOL FESTIVAL: The Orchestra, Glee Club and The Band contributed selections at the annual Spring Music Parade presented by Newton High School students last Friday afternoon and evening March 22. The program wasn't billed as a contest but with each department taking over the proceedings separately you couldn't help but choose the part of the evening you liked best. My choice was the Orchestra and they would have given much more to the evening if they played more than the two numbers allotted to them, George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," and the familiar ballet music from the opera "La Gioconda."

The Glee Club in good harmony, voice and organization sang several numbers "In the Still of the Night," "Manhattan," "Summer Time," "Mardi Gras" and "Old Vienna." The ballet to the Cole Porter music was not the best by far, but for high school students not going to professional school Sally Backman, Alice Fitz, Joan Collier, Eve Gregg and Marcia Taylor did a pleasing-enough job. Virginia Cousins though won honors as the star of the evening in her colorful and beautiful soprano voice singing Gershwin's "Summer Time." She displayed dramatic skill as well. Johann Strauss's "Old Vienna" music is always a lively and thrilling number to play and hum to. Yet the Glee Club did one better by having Alan Aronson, Daniel Gauthier (a war veteran), Beverly Johnson and James Henderson waltz to the music. Their's was the best bit of dancing all evening.

The Band was just first playing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Bad Boy Boogie Woogie" and "The Hungarian Dance No. 5" which Jean Avantaggio however danced very well to; but playing popular pieces for band music is difficult to put over. The Boogie was flat. Conductor Wesley S. Merritt should have chosen numbers not so familiar.

The solo parts of the Rhapsody orchestra were adequately played and there were but few minor flaws in the entire symphony, and the bright and lively ballet music was well received. From where I sat my neighbors were disappointed that the orchestra didn't have the stage longer. The Harmonizing Jesters had an off night for they also chose the wrong kind of selections. R.E.

Rapid Transit

seek cooperation in a full discussion of the subject.

Residents of the district have an intimate knowledge of its transportation needs. Participation at this hearing will be of great value to the Commission in formulating its final recommendations to the Legislature. All are urged to attend the meeting, hear the Commission plan and contribute such ideas as you may have.

The plan is to extend suitable Rapid Transit lines into the suburban areas where the commuter population reside and who now have only limited or inadequate transportation service.

School of Public Affairs

Topics dealing primarily with Newton Today and Tomorrow featured the 19th annual School of Public Affairs sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters, the Newton Centre Women's Club and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held last Monday afternoon and evening March 25th at the Centre's Women's Club.

The four main topics acquainted the audience with the functions of the city government and ways of possible changes and improvements, and the lectures were held in separate group meetings. Mr. Charles O. Richter, Chairman of the Community Council Research Committee spoke on "Newton's Housing Problems." Some interesting developments in Newton Education, explained by Raymond Green, principal of the Newton High School and Clarence Churchill, Principal of the Hyde School and Coordinator of the Newton Council of Parents-Teachers Association. "How our City Functions" was discussed by Alderman Donald Gibbs, Chairman of the Legislature Commission, Newton Board of Aldermen, and "What is Plan E" by Mrs. W. L. Ustick, Executive Board Member of the Mas. League of Women Voters.

Mrs. John Gahan, President of the Newton Centre Women's Club extended the welcome to the members, guests and speakers. Mayor Paul M. Goddard bestowed greetings from the city and spoke on the interest shown by Newton Citizens in its city management. The Mayor made it clear that "Newton can stand muster to any city around Boston and that he is very proud of the city as it is now. In discussion on Plan E, he said "Our Board of Aldermen are composed of honest and capable men, however 'it is not my place to bring an argument against Plan E. It is for the public to decide what form of government the city should have, but they should draw conclusions from the facts."

The afternoon session was divided into two parts, Reports of the Group Meetings and another talk "What Do You Know About City Planning?" by Dr. Vaux Bender, Asst. Prof. of City Planning of the School of Architecture at M.I.T. and also the Director of City Planning for the Planning Board of the City of Cambridge.

Reports were made by Mrs. E. B. Millard, president of the Newton League of Voters presiding, Mrs. Summer Prune on Housing, Mrs. Moses Pearlman, Education, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, Plan E and Mrs. William A. Mitten on City Planning.

Newton Nine Coming Along in Good Shape Three Teams Chosen

The ball has started rolling on good diamond turf as the Newton High baseball nine began their second week of spring training. Coach Jeff Jones optimistic over a topnotch season if his pitching forces throw true to form has retained 49 athletes to this week's tryout and before next week begins the ball club will be "down pat and raring to go."

Too early to make final decisions over a starting lineup, the team nevertheless has a good nucleus around Bob Scanlon and George Patterson, the speedy crackerjack keystone combination; Art Weinstein, hefty backstopper; Eddie Collins, first base; Henry Fitzpatrick and Loofti Gayzagian, outfielders. John Cousins, Dick Preble, and Bob Todd should take ample care of the mound duties if they click regularly.

Listed for Team A duty, temporarily at least, were Art Weinstein, c; Eddie Collins, 1b; George Patterson, 2b; Bobby Scanlon, ss; George Wales, 3b; Loofti Gayzagian, lf; Henry Fitzpatrick, cf; John Connelly, rf, and hurlers John Cousins and Dick Preble.

Birth of an Arts Guild

Springtime in Newton will see something new in the line of entertainment. Plans are still indefinite, but week by week, the future of the Elliot Arts Guild comes closer to reality.

Under the direction of a temporary committee and Miss Bess Stratton, a new approach to the theatre is being fostered. Those interested go backstage before the production gets under way and choose their own methods of expression. Some favor the scenery department; some, the publicity; some, the musical, acting, and makeup departments. To list the various possibilities for expression in this new Arts Guild would be impossible. They are too many.

Just two weeks ago, for instance, Mrs. Bracken, a make-up expert from Boston gave an exceedingly interesting exhibition on stage make up. Her audience consisted of the many individuals who have already expressed an interest in the Arts Guild. Soon there will be more programs similar to this, and it is the desire of present members that the meetings be attended by every one who wishes to contribute his artistic bit to the Guild.

A production that is merely a rumor now will take form sometime near the end of May. And between now and then we hope that artistic Newtonians will come to the front and make the month of May gay with something new.

Keep watching for the April date of the next gathering of the Guild!

elected to Scarlet Key, honorary society for students who have made outstanding contributions to the University through extra-curricular work. This year she was one of the 27 Boston University students to be named to "Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

"Bobbie's" fame has not been confined to Boston University alone. One of the P-51 fighter planes of the 9th Air Force was named "Miss Muffet," "Bobbie's" childhood nickname, by Leroy Tower, Newtonville, 25-year-old pilot who has known Bobbie since she was a senior in high school. The "Miss Muffet" saw action over Germany and Belgium.

Academically too, Miss Kane is one of the school leaders, having been made a member of Pi Omega Pi, honorary fraternity for students majoring in commercial education. Other organizations to which Miss Kane has been elected since entering college include the college commuters' club, glee club, the Y.W.C.A., commercial education club and the psychology club.

A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commercial Education at the May Commencement, she hopes in the future to teach commercial subjects in a high school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kane of Newtonville. Her 19 year old brother, a signal man with the Navy, is at present stationed in San Diego.

Comm. Chest

President Shirley complimented the member agencies, their officers, and staffs on their fine accomplishments during the past year. He pointed out that if the Chest is to be successful in its operations for the future, it cannot stand still but must go forward and stated that this cannot be done without a well-planned and forward-looking program of service to the public for whom the agencies exist. Mr. Damon spoke highly of the results of the 1945 campaign organization and assured the member agencies of the Chest that he would carry forward the program of cooperation of the Chest. President Tom Shirley, and his predecessors, he promised full cooperation to the Greater Boston Community Fund with whom the Newton Chest is a partner.

Mr. Damon announced that Dr. Chester M. Alter has been appointed Chairman of the Budget Committee for the coming year and members of this committee to serve for three years, J. Arthur Noon, Edward B. Gray, G. Herbert Marcy, and Arthur B. Tyler.

Directors of the Chest elected for three years are: William M. Cahill, Henry T. Dunker, William V. M. Fawcett, Hon. Paul M. Goddard, Harold S. Goldberg, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Joseph B. Music during the dinner was supplied by a quartet from the All Newton Music School consisting of Barke Kalegian, first violin; Robert Benson, second violin; William B. L. Health Nurse so scared and so clumsy, even though the district nurse gave her plenty of instructions before she left for the hospital. It is great relief to have her nurse return now and really get her started on the road to motherhood. It doesn't seem near as hard with such an efficient supervisor.

As soon as she feels able her doctor has instructed her to visit the Well Baby Conference nearest her home for care and instructions in how to keep that baby well. A record is kept of his gain in weight and general growth and development.

Her doctor knows that if the baby shows signs of illness he will be referred back to him for treatment and does not return to the conference until he is well again.

When this baby is about four months old an immunizing program is instituted, usually starting with protection against whooping cough, followed by diphtheria and finally smallpox. Proper feeding with the help of the nutritionist and development of good health habits are discussed with the mother both in the conference and in the home.

When this baby reaches the age of two, the public health nurse from the health department steps into the picture and takes over his health program. She arranges for him to attend the Pre-school Conference at the City Hall where the careful checking both physically and mentally assures this small child of the best of care.

The Pre-school Conference is held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and has in attendance a Pediatrician a nutritionist, a dental hygienist and a public health nurse. When all of these specialists have seen the child, the public health nurse summarizes the various recommendations for the mother and helps her make plans to meet his needs.

This same nurse follows the child through his school years and to the best of her ability sees that his health is as good as possible. Since adult health has its basis in child health it is interesting to know that Newton youths showed up very well physically at the induction centers.

These two groups of public health nurses cooperate without overlapping, in all the health services rendered the city either through the tax supported agency or that which has the support of the Community Chest to meet its deficit in current expenses.

This article has dealt chiefly with out child protection in Newton and next week we will discuss some of the other phases of our Public Health nursing program.

Improvement Music School

at the bus and trolley stations has moved the Corner trading market appeal to other communities in the Newtons and in neighboring cities, and has also led to a movement on the part of our new citizens in settling elsewhere in the city.

There is more traffic converging on Washington street than on the three other main Newton highways put together, was one of the startling facts brought out by Lockwood in urging the citizens of the Corner community to do something now to alleviate the problems in business and commuter interests.

A bill for the improvement of Nonantum Square is expected to be drawn up early in April and will be presented at City Hall for approval. Lockwood as chairman of a group of aldermen and Prof. William H. McAdams of M.I.T. heading a group of expert survey engineers have been making a study of the conditions at Newton Corner and have agreed upon several changes and plans for improvement. An almost unanimous showing of hand by the Association voted for its approval and its staff of directors will lend its aid in hope of a speedy proposal and its acceptance.

Alderman Gibbs explained that there were three kinds of parking problems to tackle. They are (1) shopping, which is 80% of parking, (2) Employee and Employer parking and (3) Commuter parking. There must be consideration and adequate provisions given to these type of parkers he said.

Wooster gave a history of the building of the library and the growth in its development and also discussed new improvements and suggestions such as a proposed central library to be housed in a Municipal Building which the city may build adjacent to City Hall.

Arthur Blakemore as acting chairman opened the meeting. Frank Schofield extended greetings in behalf of the Association and the by-laws were read by Elliott Church. Nelson Scott of the Nominating Committee read the list for nominations and all nominations were voted on and accepted. Richard H. Lee newly appointed President then took the chair and introduced the first speaker, Alderman Warner Eustis, who explained the purpose of having a Newton Improvement Association, what it should go after, how it should follow competent leadership and get things done in as swift a manner as possible, leaving it up to the experts to handle the more intricate details.

The officers and directors elected are:
President, Richard H. Lee; Vice Pres., Frank Schofield; Vice Pres., Mrs. Geo. H. Larson; Secretary, Mrs. Stephen C. Currier; Treasurer, Dr. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr.

Directors: Ward 1—Miss Adelaide Ball, Theodore H. Morton, Mrs. Geo. Strandberg, Prof. William H. McAdams, Louis Farmer, Walter Moore.
Ward 2, precinct 2—Wilfred Chagnon, F. Sanford Bacon, Mrs. Ethel Braman, Howard Rich, Earl P. Stevenson, and Benjamin Levin.

Ward 7 precinct 1—William Wossan, Walter McCammon, Harry Kay.

Need for Increased Hospital Facilities Cited by Dr. Crabtree

Some Surgery Postponed For Lack of Accommodations

Citing the placing of patients' beds in the corridors of Newton-Wellesley Hospital as a condition which demands remedial measures, Dr. E. Granville Crabtree, newly-elected president of the hospital's medical staff, today urged community-wide action to meet the need for increased accommodations.

Dr. Crabtree, who also is chief of urology at the hospital, expressed no hope that there will be lessening demands for admission. "The people of Newton and Wellesley," he said, "should understand that until such time as the objective of the current $2,250,000 building fund is reached and the hospital can be enlarged, it very likely will be impossible to admit all residents of the two communities who need attention."

According to Dr. Crabtree, cramped conditions at the hospital have reached a serious stage. "A great deal of surgery has to be postponed because of lack of accommodations," he said. "Now, more than ever, we have an unusually high number of upper respiratory cases such as pneumonia, as well as fracture cases which necessitate hospitalization far in excess of the 10 to 12 day beds are normally occupied."

"The waiting list customarily includes 60 names," Dr. Crabtree continued. "Additional requests for admission could easily raise the number to 100, but when 60 names have accumulated, the hospital considers it a kindness not to raise the hope of admission on the part of applicants and suggests that hospitalization be sought elsewhere."

Discussing further the overtaxing of accommodations and facilities at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Dr. Crabtree said that the accident floor is one where congestion is especially serious. "Accidents, particularly motor vehicle accidents — and the injuries sustained in them are much more violent than formerly, no doubt because of the dangerous obsolescence of automobiles and tires and the worn condition of the highways," he remarked.

"At present the hospital cannot handle all emergency cases without moving the beds of some recovering patients into the corridors," Dr. Crabtree said. "Because of their proximity to the emergency operating rooms, these corridor patients not only are denied privacy but are subjected to the discomfort and annoyance of seeing other emergency patients brought to the operating rooms."

"The conditions I have cited," Dr. Crabtree concluded, "make it plain that our hospital cannot serve the people as it would wish until they make possible its enlargement and modernization."

WEDDINGS

Lamson - Stennes

White mixed flowers decorated St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Roxbury on last Saturday for the marriage of Miss Alice Ethel Stennes and Myles Leach Lamson, Jr. The seven o'clock, candlelight ceremony, was performed by the Rev. William B. Sadtler. Miss Avon V. Cheel of Leominster was the soloist. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peder M. Stennes of 109 Parker street, Newton Centre, which was decorated with spring flowers and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin styled with a train. Her finger-tip veil, which was edged with Chantilly lace from her mother's wedding gown, was caught to a coronet and she carried a shower bouquet of baby gardenias and sweet peas. Her sister, Miss Marjorie E. Stennes, as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink lace and net over taffeta. Her headpiece of net with pink and blue flowers matched her Colonial bouquet. Miss Catherine Anne Stennes, cousin of the bride, of Belmont, Miss Eunice C. Johnson and Miss Joyce Skinner, both of Watertown, and Miss Mary Seery of Newton Upper Falls, were the bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of blue lace and net over taffeta, and their Colonial bouquets matched their headpieces of pink and blue. Charles A. Dillard, of Watertown, was the best man for Mr. Lamson who is the son of Mrs. R. W. Hemenway of Waltham and Mr. Myles Leach Lamson of Long Island, New York. The ushers included Lawrence G. Brown of Boston, Alfred D. Cook of Somerville, Robert Peterson of Watertown and Richard Jordan of Weymouth.

Mrs. Lamson graduated from the Newton High School and Mr. Lamson graduated from the Watertown High School and attended Northeastern University. He was recently discharged from the Navy having served two years in the Pacific. Following a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Lamson will live in Newton Centre.

A motion picture planned to show the importance of reading at the high school age is provided for this week by the Pocket Books Inc. The books on display at the libraries and schools are a selection from the resources of the schools and the Newton Free Library. Emphasis is on interesting, readable books, on the fun and satisfaction of reading.

Thirteen cities have already successfully held "Teen Age Book Shows." Several Massachusetts cities are holding or will hold such shows: Brockton, Fitchburg, Newton, Springfield, Andover, Lawrence, Everett are represented in this list.

It is hoped that the high school students will have an important share in the school assemblies, and other plans which are a part of this special week. At the Newtonville Branch Library there will be a large central Book Fair and Book Exhibit for senior high school students. For Junior high school students there will be Book Exhibits, at the Junior High School Libraries and at the Branch Libraries of the Newton Free Library. There will also be Exhibits of "Teen Age Arts and Crafts" at the libraries, also Art Exhibits relating to books, authors, illustrators, reading. An illustrated book list will be given to all students. This was prepared by Miss Mabel Williams, Superintendent of School Work, New York Public Library and Miss Margaret Scoggin, Nathan Straus Branch, New York Public Library, titles listed were also reviewed and approved by committees of librarians and teachers.

The headings of the book list are Don't Fence Me In (Travel), Some of My Best Friends are Famous (Biography), It Could Happen to You (Adventure), The World is Your Business (World Affairs), Life and Romance Everywhere (Romantic Fiction), Try and Stop Me (Careers), Where the Heart is (The Home).

High School Diplomas to Be Given to Trade School Pupils

Shorter School Day and Participation in All High School Activities

The School Committee has adopted a policy of closer relations between the Trade and the High School. Under this policy Trade School pupils attain high school status by fulfilling minimum requirements which are specified as three years of English and a year of American History in the high school curriculum. If time permits he may take other high school subjects as one-fourth of the Trade School students' total time will be available for high school subjects.

The remainder of his time will be in the Trade School, one-half in shop work and one-fourth in related subjects, including science and mathematics. Another change is in the length of the Trade School day. Beginning September 1, it will be a six-hour day instead of seven. The new policy makes the following available for Trade School students who qualify:

1. A high school diploma.
2. One-fourth of the time in high school classes.
3. Participation in such high school curricular activities as band, orchestra, chorus, art, science, etc.
4. Participation in extra curricular activities such as student government, school paper, band, clubs, athletics, dramas, etc.

Under this plan better opportunities for trade education are offered High School students who wish to take advantage of the Trade School curricula. In the past High School students have refused to transfer to the Trade School because by so doing they forfeited the opportunity of earning a high school diploma. Now it is possible to transfer whenever the student and the guidance personnel decide such act is for the benefit of the student.

The Trade School is divided into three main divisions, namely, General Department, Unit Trade and Unit Trade (Inter-School).

- (1) The General Vocational Department offers training in several fields for those who must plan to go to work as soon as they become old enough to do so, or for those who do not wish to specialize in one trade but wish to learn something about more than one trade.
- (2) Unit Trade is intended to give training in the unit trades for boys who wish to take four years of trade school work. Upon completion of the year's work pupils may enter the Unit Trade (Inter-School) program.
- (3) Unit Trade (Inter-School) courses offer the opportunity to become thoroughly grounded in the fundamentals of a trade so that a boy may enter that trade with not only a knowledge of the practical side, but with sufficient related training to enable him to advance rapidly after he leaves school. It also provides instruction in academic subjects and trains for good citizenship. The trades taught at present are as follows:

Automobile, Cabinetmaking, Electrical, Machine, Patternmaking, Printing, Radio. The advantages to pupils taking these courses are:

- (a) They find themselves in specific occupations without having to go through the "hit or miss" method so common in industry for the untrained worker.
- (b) They are trained in one line of endeavor that will provide gainful employment.

- (c) They are most likely to secure a job in industry upon graduation.
- (d) They are able to hold that job by virtue of their special training.
- (e) They advance more rapidly than untrained workers.
